RESCUERS TAKE LIQUOR FEUDIST
FROM HOSPITAL

Floyd Washburn, East St. Louis, Taken From Institution at Paris, Ill., by Two Men.

SHOT IN FIGHT OF ALCOHOL RUNNERS

Two Sources of Their Supply Had Been Raided Recently in St. Louis by Dry Agents.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Ill., April 30.—Floyd Washburn of East St. Louis, runner in the St. Louis-Indiana trade, was rescued by two men last night from the Paris hospital, where he had been since he was shot in the abdomen March 25, as the result of a quarrel growing out of robberies of the redistilled alcohol produced at the Tenth and Wash streets still and elsewhere in St. Louis. The Wash street still was raided by prohibition officers Tuesday.

Washburn is charged in an Indiana warrant with complicity in the kidnapping of Pat Hagerman, who was carried away and severely beaten in a run runners' quarrel near Terre Haute last month. The warrant had not been served, as his condition was such that physicians did not suppose anyone would attempt to remove him from the hospital. Sheriff Sizemore of this (Edgar) County had asked the hospital authorities to notify him if any one making such a statement was available to serve the warrant and place Washburn under legal restraint.

Carried Away by Pair.

The wounded man's mother and sister were visiting him, about 8:30 p. m., when two men strode into the hospital, took Washburn from bed and carried him to an automobile, in which they took him away. Only women nurses were on duty at the time. Apparently Washburn was shot twice while riding in an automobile near Christmas, Ill., with "Dutch" Rebec, while Joe Trauma and another man were in another automobile near by. Rebec and Trauma were arrested, and Washburn made statements connecting them with the shooting. They were also charged in warrants with complicity in the Indiana kidnapping.

Washburn told the Sheriff a few days ago that he was taking $1000 load of alcohol from St. Louis to a point beyond Terre Haute, when Hagerman held him up and robbed him of the alcohol. He said he told Hagerman to make a clean job of it, and that Hagerman took his money, about $250. Then, Washburn said, he went to East St. Louis and got "some of the boys" and they went to Terre Haute, carried Hagerman away and gave him a beating. Later, he said, they robbed Hagerman twice of quantities of liquor. He attributed his own wounding to the enemies growing out of this feud with Hagerman.

Others Released Recently.

Rebec and Trauma were released from jail recently on bonds of $5000 each, respectively, furnished by Frank Long of Paris. Rebec was wanted in St. Clair County for bond-jumping, following an arrest in East St. Louis, and when the question of extradition to Indiana was taken up by Gov. Small, the governor decided that St. Clair County should have him. Later, St. Clair County authorities have said they did not want Rebec, and it is expected that he will be sent to Indiana, with Trauma.

Washburn's condition was such, physicians say, that he will need medical care, and it will be difficult to carry him very far or to conceal him effectively. His two bullet wounds caused nine perforations of the intestines, and while these were healing, he suffered from a partial paralysis, caused by the impact of one of the bullets on his spine.

Sources of Supply for Rum Runners Raided Here.

Since the shooting of Washburn and the arrest of Rebec and Trauma, prohibition officers have raided two of the sources of supply.

ALL MAJOR LEAGUE BALL GAMES POSTPONED TODAY
BECAUSE OF WEATHER

RAIN and cold weather today caused the postponement of the eight baseball games in the two major leagues. This is the first time this has occurred this season, but it also happened in 1924 and then, too, during the month of April.

In the past two days, a total of 13 of the 16 scheduled contests have been canceled because of weather conditions.

COOLIDGE OBEYS
ORDER TO 65,000
TO BE VACCINATED

All Government Employees in Capital Affected by Smallpox Safeguard.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—All Government employees in the District of Columbia have been requested by the Public Health Service to submit to vaccination against smallpox and there were indications today that President Coolidge was among the first to signify compliance with the request.

As a result of an order by Surgeon-General Cummings, department heads today sent circular instructions to all employees advising them that the vaccination should be accomplished at the earliest possible moment. The order affects approximately 65,000 Government workers.

There have been 19 deaths from smallpox here since Jan. 1 out of 54 cases. Two of the deaths occurred yesterday. Dr. Cummings considers the disease to be in a virulent form.

While White House officials refused to discuss President Coolidge's vaccination, it was pointed out that he receives and shakes hands daily with several hundred persons and occasionally attends public gatherings here. The President had a number of engagements today but was late in appearing at his office, and canceled plans to attend the baseball game this afternoon.

OHIO GOVERNOR VETOES BILL FOR BIBLE READING IN SCHOOLS

Declares Measure Is Opposed to Principles of Civil and Religious Liberty.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 30.—The Buchanan Bible bill, passed by the recent session of the Ohio General Assembly to make daily reading of the Bible compulsory in all public schools of Ohio, was vetoed today by Gov. Donahay because "it would violate the principles of civil and religious liberty which have made our Government the model for the world."

CORONER ORDERS MAN ARRESTED IN WAITRESS' DEATH

Mrs. Anna M. Clark Found to Have Left Home in an Auto Night Before She Was Found Fatally Hurt.

BORE LICENSE PLATE
ISSUED TO CHAUFFEUR

Harry Wilcox, Suspect in Case, Drew Pay Saturday and Did Not Return to His Job.

The arrest of Harry Wilcox, a chauffeur, on a charge of homicide was ordered by the Coroner today at the conclusion of an inquest into the mysterious death of Mrs. Anna M. Clark, 32-year-old waitress, who was found fatally injured, lying in the street at Grand boulevard and Market street early Saturday morning.

Testimony at the inquest today, while it pointed to Wilcox as the man with whom Mrs. Clark was out last Friday evening only served to deepen the mystery surrounding the death of the woman, who lived at 3805 Shenandoah avenue.

Police investigation has disclosed that Mrs. Clark left her home Friday in a coupe bearing a license number issued to Wilcox. That is the chief point on which the coroner's verdict.

Early Saturday morning, Raymond Pennybacker, of 2662 Laclede avenue, a baseball player, looked into a gateway leading north from Laclede avenue, a short distance east of Grand boulevard. There Pennybacker, who was a witness today, saw the body of a woman. He went to the corner to call other youths who were there and within a few minutes they had returned to the gateway.

The body was gone. The place where Pennybacker reported seeing it is almost in the rear of a restaurant at 6 North Grand boulevard, where Mrs. Clark was employed.

A short time later Charles H. Gowan of 1713 Oregon avenue was waiting for a car at Grand boulevard and Market street, a few blocks north of the point where Pennybacker saw the body when a Ford coupe stopped in the street near Gowan. A man got out carrying what seemed to be a bundle and laid it in the street.

Saw Body Laid on Street.

When the machine pulled away Gowan went to the bundle and discovered it was a woman, unconscious. He testified he was "afraid" and left the vicinity. Later the unconscious woman was found by a taxi driver and his passenger. She died Saturday morning without regaining consciousness.

Wilcox was chauffeur for Charles Kraus of 3237 Longfellow boulevard and lived in the garage at that address. He drew his wages Saturday and has not been seen since. His divorced wife, Mrs. Hattie Wilcox, and a child live at 4447 Beethoven avenue.

PRICE OF HAIRCUTS GOES UP TO 60 CENTS TOMORROW

Master Barbers Also to Increase Shingle Bobbing, New Rate Being 75 Cents.

Up goes the price of haircuts. Ditto for bobbing. After much wavering and spitting of hairs, the Master Barbers' Association has decided to put a series of increased prices into effect tomorrow.

Hair cutting, 60 cents; shingle bobbing, 75 cents; straight bobbing, 60 cents, is the new tariff. It was agreed upon Wednesday night at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Master Barbers' Association and is in the nature of a compromise, as some members advocated "six bits or bust" for haircuts.

Others, fearing the slogan might develop into "six bits and bust," urged the compromise.

Notice of the increase was given to the newspapers this afternoon. Porters are dusting off the standing room only signs for this evening, as a rush of "bargain hunters" is anticipated. The association represents 140 shops.

RUM 'TESTER' HAS ENOUGH

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—A clerk, former United States Army captain, today resigned from the Federal Prohibition Enforcement Department as an "under-cover agent" ostensibly to enter business for himself.

Unofficially, however, Okie disclosed that as an "under-cover agent" he found it incumbent to taste liquor on an average of 53 times daily.

IS NICK IN JAIL OR IS SUBSTITUTE
DOING HIS TIME?

Bootlegger Under 60-Day Sentence at Home Ill, Attorney Says in Court.

An investigation to determine whether Nick Vitale or a substitute is serving Vitale's 60-day sentence to the Montgomery County jail was begun today by Special Assistant Attorney-General Dyott.

Vitale had a saloon at Twenty-first and Olive streets which frequently was raided for liquor. On March 10 a case in which he was charged with possession was called before Federal Judge Faris, and Vitale, or somebody who looked like him, stepped forward and pleaded guilty. Being a second offender, he received a jail sentence and the Marshal took charge of him.

Yesterday another case against him was called. Much to the surprise of Dyott, who believed Vitale to be in jail, his attorney stepped forward with a doctor's certificate to the effect that the defendant could not appear because he was ill at home.

Dyott then recalled a recent statement from the bench by Federal Judge Davis, who said it had been reported to him that bootleggers were hiring substitutes to serve their jail terms, while the bootleggers continued to bootleg.

OF STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Kansas City Police Say Residence of W. H. Lafferty Is "Home Brew Joint."

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, April 30.—The home of William H. Lafferty, Democratic State Representative from the Second District, which was raided last night, was described by police today as being a "well-known homebrew joint."

The raid, made at the request of neighbors, resulted in the seizure of 150 bottles of brew.

Lafferty and Miss Lillian Rush, who were at the home, were released on $500 bond to appear for arraignment Saturday. Police said the Lafferty home was raided on Aug. 22, 1924, and 10 quarts of home brew seized.

MOSCOW, April 30.—The Soviet Government today made the largest concession it has ever granted in signing a 50-year contract with the British Lena Gold Fields Corporation for the exploitation of the Lena gold fields of Siberia, which are estimated to contain more than $100,000,000 worth of gold.

American banking interests will participate to the extent of 50 per cent in the investment.

NO FRUIT DAMAGE LAST NIGHT
DANGER OF FROST POINTED OUT FOR TONIGHT.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—Virtually no damage was done to fruit by the light frosts last night in many Missouri counties, Jewell Mayes, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, announced today after receiving reports from a number of districts. More serious damage, however, is expected tonight, he said, if prevailing winds die down and the skies are clear.

Mayes said reports indicated winds were general over the State last night, hindering the frosts. Low temperatures reported included 38 at Springfield, 38 at Jefferson City and 37 at Columbia. The danger point at this stage, Mayes said, is at temperatures around 30 to 32 degrees above zero. "Missouri has practically a perfect fruit crop prospect this far," Mayes said, "but much will depend upon the level to which temperatures drop tonight in the fruit growing districts."

LONDON, April 30.—The attack has begun on the budget which Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced in the House of Commons.

One line of fire comes from a section of the Tory party itself—the Industrialists, represented by Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express and Evening Standard.

Beaverbrook's organs had called for a reduction of a shilling (24 cents) in the pound on the income tax, and now they declare that the decrease of but 6 pence (12 cents) will be no aid to the industrial world. They also dispassionately the reduction of the super tax on large incomes with the argument that the benefit therefrom is wiped out by increased death duties.

BUDDY M'HALE, PUGILIST, HELD ON ROBBERY CHARGE

St. Louis Middleweight Arrested in Chicago on Information Furnished by Driver of Automobile.

$905 WAS TAKEN IN HOLDUP OF CHASIER

Charles Bongner, Also Named in Warrant, Tells How Third Man Made Plans for the Robbery.

Buddy McHale, local middleweight prize fighter, was arrested today in Chicago on a St. Louis robbery warrant, naming him as the man who held up a Judge & Dolph Drug Co. cashier at Clara and Kingsbury avenues April 13 and escaped with $905.

McHale has been named by Charles Bongner, driver of the automobile delivery wagon in which the cashier was riding as the hold-up man. Bongner, who is 31 years old and lives at 1218 Warren street, declares he got no part of the proceeds of the robbery. He, too, has been named in a robbery warrant, but it is understood it was issued chiefly to hold him as a witness in the case.

The robbery took place after Miss Anna Knoll, 1919 North Taylor avenue, had left the Judge & Dolph store at De Baliviere and Kingsbury avenues April 13, and returned to her home at 1218 Warren street at 11:15 a. m.

Bongner was taking her to the car in his delivery wagon. As the machine reached Clara avenue, traveling east on Kingsbury, a man jumped on the running board, forced Bongner at the muzzle of a revolver to drive to a nearby alley and there snatched from the cashier the tin box containing the money and fled.

Bongner was arrested after the robbery two weeks before the robbery and in the course of conversation discussed his job as chauffeur.

"It's a good position," he told the man, "but there's one disadvantage to it. I have to drive the cashier to the car and if she's ever stuck up I'll get the rap for it. The friend immediately suggested the situation as a good layout for a holdup but Bongner said he demurred. The friend declared he could get a man unknown to Bongner to commit the robbery so that Bongner could not identify him, but the chauffeur finally left the acquaintance assured that the robbery project was abandoned.

Names Prize Fighter. The Saturday before the robbery Bongner again met his friend, who said he had arranged the robbery for the following Monday. Bongner said he told the man he would have to identify the robber if he knew him and thus, he thought, persuaded the friend once again to drop the plan.

But Monday the robbery took place. Bongner recognized McHale as the holdup man. The friend, arrested, told the police. McHale had pulled the robbery "on his own hook" although the friend had tried to dissuade him.

McHale had left town when this information was obtained. The Chicago police arrested him yesterday at the request of local authorities.

McHale is the prize fighter's ring name. His name under which he is named in the warrant, is Walter W. Burgoyna.

Big German Grocery in Receivership. By the Associated Press. BREITLAU, Germany, April 29.—The wholesale grocery of Molinari & Sons, which inspired Gustav Freytag's "Soll Und Haben" known through the late Frances Hodgson Burnett's translation "Debit and Credit," went into the hands of receivers yesterday because of its inability to collect sums due from Polish, Czechoslovakian and German firms. The failure came just one day before the expiration of the company's thirty-third anniversary of its death.

By the Associated Press. CONCORD, N. H., April 30.—Ralph D. Paine, author, athlete, and war correspondent was found dead in his room at a hotel here last night. He was taken ill in the afternoon, while serving on the Federal grand jury, and was removed to the hotel. Paine joined the Philadelphia Press in 1894 and was a war correspondent during the Cuban rebellion, Spanish-American War, and the boxer uprising in China. He was with the allied naval forces in the war in 1917. Paine's home was in Durham, N. H.

FIREMEN SEEK WRIT IN SALARY FIGHT

Petition Sent to Supreme Court by Mail—City Prepares to File Answer.

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—A petition for a writ of mandamus to force the St. Louis Board of Estimate and Apportionment to include in the budget a salary increase for city firemen, recently voted through an initiative ordinance, was sent to the Supreme Court by mail today but was not filed because the required docket fee of $10 was not forwarded. The ordinance gave all firemen an increase of $25 a month, making their salaries $150 a month.

Supreme Court Clerk Allen telegraphed Alroy S. Phillips, attorney for the Uniform Firemen's Association, that the petition would not be filed until the docket fee is forthcoming. The petition cannot be placed before the court until properly filed.

Supreme Court en banc also received a request today from City Counselor Sentz of St. Louis for five days in which to file suggestions in opposition to the writ decision adopted in the recent city election is invalid because it was not approved by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

The petition of the firemen raises the claim that approval of the board was not necessary, because the City Charter requires the Board of Aldermen to fix the salaries of city employees and that an initiative ordinance passed by the people had the same force as one passed by the Board of Aldermen.

RELATIVES SEEK TWO PERSONS

Police Requested to Trace Man and Woman Here.

Charles P. Taylor, also known as McDonald, is being sought in St. Louis by policewomen that he may be told of the critical illness of a sister at Cincinnati, O. A letter to the police said he at one time was connected with a carnival and might be found with such a company here.

Mrs. Hannah Fridge, who at one time lived on Brooklyn street, is being sought at the request of her father, L. A. Tomlin of Yuma, Ariz., who wrote he had not heard from her in two years.

APRIL SETS RECORD FOR BUILDING PERMITS

Total of $8,960,385 Includes $2,600,000 for New Downtown Theater.

Building operations in St. Louis for the month ending today exceed all previous monthly records. Building Commissioner Becker announced, up to and including yesterday permits had been issued this month for work to cost $8,960,385, the permits issued yesterday alone amounting to $2,600,000. Today's permits are expected to be at least $100,000, bringing the total well over $9,000,000.

The previous high record was for October, 1924, when permits for $9,022,225 were issued. This sum included $3,000,000 for the new Bell Telephone skyscraper. Large buildings for which permits were issued this month were: Skouras Bros. theater, Seventh and Locust streets, $2,600,000; Western Union building, Ninth and Chestnut streets, $2,500,000; Woodward & Tiernan building, Tower Grove avenue and Missouri Pacific tracks, $1,500,000; hotel, 511-53 North Union boulevard, $500,000; office building, Eleventh and Locust streets, $450,000; Roxana Petroleum Co. office building, Thirteenth and Locust streets, $440,000; apartment building, Union and Washington boulevards, $200,000; hotel, 4155 Lindell boulevard, $200,000.

Permits issued for January, February and March of this year, respectively were $3,009,710, $4,571,245 and $4,014,830.

As told in the Post-Dispatch yesterday, building operations in St. Louis for the fiscal year ending April 13 last amounted to $45,114,617, breaking all records.

ply of the rum-running business. The first of these raids was April 8, at the buildings at 5445 49 Shaw avenue, St. Louis. The second raid was that of Tuesday, on the Tenth and Wash plant, which was known by that name to Illinois and Indiana county officials who knew the names of many other streets in St. Louis.

The product of the St. Louis stills, carried through this region in trucks bound for Indianapolis and Chicago, was a redistilled form of poisonous denatured alcohol, known as "back-rub" because of its use as a liniment. The redistilled product was carried in cans and barrels, and by truckloads. Sheriff Fencanor of Terre Haute, who has endeavored to interfere with this traffic, and who obtained the warrants against Washburn, Rebec and Trautman in the Hagerman kidnapping case, has charged that the volume of this business, going through or around Terre Haute, was 700 barrels a month. He has been told, by some of the men he has arrested, of reports that large sums of money were paid for official protection. A force of general prohibition agents is now investigating this matter.

WOMAN DIES FROM POISON

Mrs. Susan Bueschel, 33 years old, who had resided for two months with the family of Joseph P. Smith, 8417 Vulcan street, died at city hospital at 5 p. m. yesterday, an hour and a half after she had been found in her room, an empty bottle that had contained poison beside her. Police were told Mrs. Bueschel was dependent because of separation from her husband and two children. The husband's whereabouts was not given. The children are being cared for at institutions, police were told.

Mrs. Bueschel was unconscious when found and did not regain consciousness before she died.

Girl, 13, Believed Kidnaped

By the Associated Press. MOUNT HOLLY, N. J., April 29.—County officials today started a hunt for 13-year-old Christina Sweet of Browns Mills, 13 miles from here, believed to have been kidnaped by a strange man and woman seen on the road near her home yesterday.

The petition of the firemen raises the claim that approval of the board was not necessary, because the City Charter requires the Board of Aldermen to fix the salaries of city employees and that an initiative ordinance passed by the people had the same force as one passed by the Board of Aldermen.

Mrs. Hannah Fridge, who at one time lived on Brooklyn street, is being sought at the request of her father, L. A. Tomlin of Yuma, Ariz., who wrote he had not heard from her in two years.

Mine Employing 500 to Close.

By the Associated Press. HERRIN, Ill., April 30.—The Consolidated Coal Co. of St. Louis posted notices today at its No. 7 mine here, advising, more than 500 men, that the mine would close down Saturday indefinitely. Slack business was the reason assigned for the shutdown.

Two Girls Are Champion Spellers of Missouri

Mary O'Bannon, 17, of Farmington, and Margaret Moore, 14, of Callaway County, Win State Contests.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, April 30.—Ten district champion spellers, representing the elementary schools and high schools of the five State Teachers' College districts, met here yesterday afternoon in two contests to determine the State spelling championships of the public, elementary and high schools of Missouri.

The various district champions apparently had worked long and hard in preparation for the contests, and they spelled virtually all of the hardest words, but the eight losers missed some of the easiest words, and thereby the championships were determined.

Twisters for young spellers, such as "reacalibrate," "desophagus," "effervescence," "resuscitate" and "avaricious" were spelled easily. Elimination of the contestants was brought about by such words as "capital," "baker," "grievous," "convenience" and "management."

Winners in Two Divisions. First place in the high school division of the contest went to Miss Mary Frances O'Bannon, 17 years old, a junior in the Farmington High School. She missed only one word, "calson," out of 400. Other rankings were: Leo Herndon, Osceola High School, St. Clair County, second; Iva Workman, Christian County, third; Ruth Maury, Brunswick, fourth; Rachel Ingram, Nodaway County, fifth.

The elementary championship went to Margaret Moore, 14, of the eighth grade of the Vivian School, Callaway County. She did not miss a word in 400. Other rankings were: Marguerite Brown, 11, Lebanon, whose only mistake was spelling "capital" as "capitol"; second, Wilford Crawford, Clinton County, third; Lucille Burlingame, Blackwater, Cooper County, fourth; Catherine Zimmer, Iron County, fifth. Four of the contestants were girls. Wilford Crawford was the only boy who survived the numerous preliminary contests held in the teacher college districts.

NEW BOARD OF PUBLIC SERVICE TOMORROW

Starkloff to Be Retained as Health Commissioner, Pape as Head of Parks.

The Board of Public Service, appointed by Mayor Miller, recently will take office tomorrow and the appointment of commissioners in the various departments is expected to follow shortly. The four new members and President Kinsey, who was reappointed, will convene at 10 a. m. and will immediately confer with the Mayor on the business before the board.

The new members are R. B. Brooks, Director of Streets; E. E. Wall, former Water Commissioner; Director of Public Utilities; John H. Brod Jr., Alderman from the Twenty-eighth Ward, Director of Public Safety and Harry L. Salisbury, Director of Streets and Sewers.

Reorganizations may be the order in some departments, but the Public Welfare Department, which has been decided to reappoint Dr. Max C. Starkloff as Health Commissioner and Fred W. Pape as Park Commissioner. It is unlikely that Hospital Commissioner Jordan will be reappointed. It is said Mayor Miller announced today that Alexander E. Filippak, an attorney in a railroad office, would be appointed Assistant City Counselor at an early date.

Mexican Free Ports Abolished

MEXICO CITY, April 30.—A presidential decree, effective tomorrow, abolishes the Mexican free ports that have had a precarious existence since their establishment by Provisional President de la Huerta, Oct. 4, 1920. The ports affected include Guaymas, in the State of Sonora; Puerto Mexico, in Vera Cruz, and Rincon Antonio and Salina Cruz, in Oaxaca. The Government-owned steamers, which were assigned to the Free Ports Commission, are to be incorporated into the National Navigation Lines, operation of which is provided for in President Calles' decree, while the Tehuantepec railway, which serves the free zone between Puerto Mexico and Salina Cruz, is returned to the National Railways.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF YALE CONDEMNS DRY AMENDMENT

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 30.—Speaking on the subject, "Law Enforcement," here last night, President of Yale University, Arthur T. Hadley of Yale University, characterized the Eighteenth Amendment as a "marked infringement of personal liberty, coming at a time when personal liberty is in danger and when the infringement of personal liberty is dangerous for democracy."

Public opinion, guided by religion, the daily press, the theater and not Congress, were the real factors in law enforcement, he said, asserting that Congress had become the "mouthpiece of cliques" and that its laws were "tending to tax the honest man out of business and leave only dishonest men in the United States."

"As we pass more laws," Mr. Hadley said, "we must increase the police force, giving us eventually a military government, or we must let the multiplicity of laws go to the civilizing of man out of business and leave only dishonest men in the United States."

Bradley Heads Turf Body

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 29.—Edward R. Bradley, master of Idle Hour Farm and nationally known sportsman, was unanimously elected president of the Thoroughbred Horse Association for the third consecutive term yesterday, when members of the organization gathered here for their annual business meeting. The election of Mr. Bradley for the third time as president is without precedent in the organization.

Girl With Runaway MANIA SOUGHT HERE

J. S. Roberts of Terre Haute, Ind., Here Looking for His 18-Year-Old Daughter.

An anxious father kept a lonely vigil at the general delivery window of the St. Louis postoffice today, waiting for his 18-year-old daughter, who disappeared Saturday from their home in Terre Haute, Ind., to call for a letter.

The father, John S. Roberts, came to St. Louis, last night and reported to the police the disappearance of his daughter. He described her as possessing black bobbed hair and dark brown eyes, and who he said had suffered a nervous breakdown from overstudy in the State Normal School at Terre Haute.

The girl Saturday prepared lunch in her mother's absence and upon the mother's return her disappearance was discovered along with a Ford automobile belonging to the family. Tuesday, the father related, the girl's chum received a letter from her, postmarked St. Louis. The writer described herself as being very lonesome, being "all alone in this city of 500,000 people."

"The girls here are lazy," she wrote, "but the boys are cute and use cute slang and are awful flirts. She added that she had room and board for $3 a week, "in a nice family," and implored her friend to write at once, care general delivery.

The father recalled also that the girl disappeared under similar circumstances last January and was found working as a maid in an Indianapolis home. Again in February she disappeared in a rented automobile and was found in Sullivan, Ind. Today the father received word that the automobile, in which the girl left on this occasion, had been recovered in Effingham, Ill.

3 PINTS IN HIS CAR, MAN IS FINED $1000 AND AUTO SEIZED

Judge Tells W. H. Masterson He Regrets He Is Unable Also to Add Jail Sentence.

"You are a menace to public safety and I regret I am unable to send you to jail. You will be lucky if you are not charged with perjury."

With this comment Federal Judge Miller today fined William H. Masterson $1000 and ordered his automobile confiscated. Masterson, a former street car employee, was convicted yesterday by a jury of possession and transportation of liquor. He was arrested last December while driving an automobile which contained a basket holding three pints of whisky. Masterson testified the basket had been left in his car by a friend, and denied he knew the pints were in the basket.

Matt Jovanovic pleaded guilty to possession and sale of liquor in a saloon at 2301 Franklin avenue and was fined $340. His attorney said Jovanovic has sickness in his family and has quit the liquor business. Judge Miller advised him to stay out of saloons and to use his "influence" with his people to have them obey the Volstead act.

William Wheaton was fined $240 on his plea of guilty to possessing liquor at a saloon at 361 South Second street.

$115,000 BID FOR DORRIS MOTOR CAR CO.

Sale Conducted Under Court Order of Voluntary Dissolution.

A bid of $115,000 for the plant and business of the Dorris Motor Car Co. was made at the opening of the auction today at the plant, 4100 Laclede avenue, which is being carried out as advertised under a court order of voluntary dissolution. The bid is held in abeyance pending completion of the sale of all items, when it may be accepted or rejected.

The bidding opened at $75,000 and was bid up, in $5000 sums, to the figure mentioned, which was made by H. B. Krenning of Arcadia, Mo., who was president of the concern until 1917. At the opening, the auctioneer explained that the company was voluntarily going into business, and that its financial statement, as of February, 1925, showed a valuation of $580,955, after $240,000 had been deducted for depreciation.

Listed in these assets are $26,000 in customers' notes and $21,584 in accounts receivable, which will be auctioned off this afternoon. The bid for the entire plant will stand only in the event the sum exceeds the total of the 27 items, in which the assets have been grouped. Similarly, the bids for the separate items will stand only in case the bid exceeds the total realized by the subdivisions of the particular item.

The first item offered was $8000, par value, of stock in the Dorris, Real Estate and Improvement Co., a separate corporation, which owns the plant property and grounds. It was brought out that the motor car company paid $27,000 annual rental. About 200 persons were present when the auction opened.

M'LEAN CONVICTED OF DANCE HALL MURDER

Former Alton Policeman Gets Life Sentence After Jury Deliberates 40 Hours.

Louis McLean, a former policeman at Alton, was sentenced to life imprisonment in an Illinois penitentiary for the murder of Lindley Larsson by the verdict of a jury in Circuit Court at Edwardsville, returned this morning after more than 40 hours' deliberation.

It was thought the jury would be deadlocked and unable to agree after arguing the case for so long, it being unusual for a verdict to be reached under the circumstances.

Chewing gum, as he had throughout the trial, McLean heard his fate calmly, and gave no indication of a strain from the long wait for the verdict.

The jury received the case at 6 p. m. Tuesday. For two weeks there were brief periods for sleeping and other interruptions were for meals, but the rest of the time the defendant's guilt was debated. As late as breakfast time this morning it was not believed that an agreement would be reached, for two of the jurors, who are called the case to an end, Illinois law provides punishment of imprisonment for from 14 years to life, or hanging, for murder. At no time, said jurors after they were dismissed, were more than three for the death penalty, and none was for acquittal. On some ballots as many as six jurors favored the minimum sentence of 14 years. About 40 ballots were taken, but a record was not kept of them.

Jurors said they believed McLean's testimony that Larsson had shoved him prior to the shooting, reaching for a pocket where McLean knew he carried a revolver. The jury concluded that McLean, shot in the heat of passion and not in cold blood.

Larsson, who was a Deputy Sheriff of Madison County, was employed as a "bouncer" at a dance hall near Alton. It was there that he was killed on Jan. 22. The murder resulted from the meeting of McLean and his former wife, in the crowded dance hall. He asked for a dance and she said it was "taken" by a woman friend. She testified that he then called her a liar. Larsson interfered and elected McLean, who went home and obtained two revolvers, returning and shooting Larsson.

GIRL, 15, SENT TO BUY LIQUOR

Her Employment by Deputy Prosecutor Under Inquiry.

By the Associated Press. SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 30.—Alleged employment of Cecilia Morzinski, 15 years old, by a deputy prosecutor, to buy liquor for evidence in an effort to clean up Mishawaka, near here, is under investigation by the juvenile court. It was learned today. The deputy prosecutor's name was withheld.

The other robber remained with Miss Nestle and me so we didn't see what happened in there. We heard about it a week or so later. My husband, who was 6 feet 2, apparently got the letter of that robber, who called, "Frank, Frank, come and help me." We thought the man watching us would run away, but instead he went in the grocery. Miss Nestle and I ran out the side door to the street and just then we heard several shots.

ROBBER KILLS GROCER FIGHTING HIS COMPANION

George J. Huebschen, Six Feet Two, Slain When Holdup Man Calls on Accomplice to Help Him.

REVOLVER AND CAP FOUND NEAR BODY

Widow Thinks Her Husband Wounded Intruder With Own Weapon—Little Money Obtained.

With a blood-stained dark gray cap, and a .38-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver in their claws, the police hope to find the men who wantonly murdered George J. Huebschen in his saloon and grocery at 2826 Magnolia avenue, when he resisted their robbery at 8:15 o'clock last night. Huebschen, who was 32 years old, died instantly of four bullet wounds. Seemingly he had bested one of the robbers in a scuffle, but the other man overcame the resistance with lead. No one saw the shooting, which occurred in the front grocery, but Huebschen's wife and niece were fleeing from the rear saloon as the shots were fired.

A $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers was offered today by Lucille Council of the Knights of Columbus, of which the grocer was a member. The establishment was of the familiar type of neighborhood store with a soft-drink room in connection. Thirty years ago it was started there by Huebschen's father and upon his death, three years ago, the son inherited it. Mrs. Marie Huebschen, who was widowed by the robbers' weapons, partially regained her composure this morning and described the shooting.

Both Men Wore Masks.
"My husband's niece, Miss Ethel Neale and I were sitting at a table in the saloon and Mr. Huebschen was standing at the side door on Oregon avenue," she said. "Two men came in from the door. They had handkerchiefs over their faces and carried revolvers. One of them stopped with his back to the door and the other placed his revolver against my husband's hip and said, 'give me your money.'"
"Mr. Huebschen started to reach in his pocket and the robber said, 'Wait! I'll get it,' and took out the little money he was carrying. Then he ordered Mr. Huebschen to open the cash register in the saloon and he took the money from it. Then he made my husband go in the grocery to open that cash register."

"The other robber remained with Miss Neale and me so we didn't see what happened in there. We heard sounds of a scuffle and then my husband, who was 6 feet 2, apparently got the better of that robber who called, 'Frank, come and help me.' We thought the man watching us would run away but instead he went in the grocery. Miss Neale and I ran out the side door to the street and then we heard several shots."

"The robber who had stood guard over us ran out the side door past us still wearing his mask and carrying his revolver. He ran south on Oregon. The other man must have run out the front door and down Magnolia, because I didn't see him. I think that one was wounded. He left traces of blood and I imagine my husband took his revolver from him and shot him. My husband's revolver was upstairs in our house."

"Thought It Was a Joke."
"We thought it was just a joke at first. The robbers evidently were amateurs because they didn't want to make us hold up our hands. They were very nervous and fidgety and didn't seem to know what to do."

The bloody cap, 7 1/2, and the revolver, No. 250,471, which apparently had belonged to the man who took Huebschen into the grocery, were found lying there near the grocer's body. There were bloodstains on some canned goods near the spot of the scuffle and there were stains on the front door handle as though left by the fleeing criminal. The revolver had four empty cartridges and one loaded one.

Circumstances led the police to believe that Huebschen had overpowered the first robber and wrested his revolver from him; that the second one, coming to his companion's aid, had shot Huebschen and possibly wounded the other robber, too, and that Huebschen may have fired shots there was a bullet hole in the front window of the grocery. One bullet entered Huebschen's abdomen, another passed through his left arm and entered his body, and two others struck him in the left thigh.

Threatens Pursuer.
The robber who ran into Oregon avenue fired a shot outside for an unexplained reason. Albert Enger of 2819 Oregon avenue started to pursue him into a nearby alley, but the man turned his weapon on him and, with an oath, commanded, "Get back or I'll kill you."

The amount of money stolen was not determined definitely, but it

ARRESTED 15 TIMES, NO DRIVER'S LICENSE

But James McGurn's Real Business Is Running a Craps Game, He Admits.

James McGurn, service car driver, of 5573 Powers avenue, who has been arrested 15 times for traffic offenses, increased his record by one today when he was taken to headquarters for failing to appear in Police Court Monday.

When Capt. Dudley McDonald of the traffic bureau looked up McGurn's record and saw the number of his arrests he announced he would take steps to have his driver's license revoked.

"You can't do that, Captain," McGurn told him, cheerfully. "You see, I haven't any license. My real business is running a craps game in the county."

"How interesting," said the Captain. "Then perhaps you had better go to jail for not having a license."

And that's exactly what occurred. McGurn was taken to the holdover. Last Saturday he was given a summons to appear in court for disregarding a traffic officer's sign. When he failed to appear on Monday he was arrested, and when searched, a summons was found in his pocket for violating an automatic traffic signal at Twenty-first and Washington, five minutes after the Eighteenth street offense.

When he was asked why he did not appear Monday, he told the police his summons read "29," making it Wednesday. But the arresting officer's carbon copy read "27," and it is likely the Judge will take his word for it.

BABY APPARENTLY BITTEN BY RAT IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION
Son of Robert Baldwin Is Taken to Hospital Suffering From Wounds.

Richard Baldwin, 6-weeks-old son of Robert Baldwin of 6138 Bartmer avenue, was taken to City Hospital at 12:25 a. m. today suffering from lacerations and puncture wounds of the scalp which physicians said apparently were inflicted by a rat.

The infant's parents were awakened by his cries at midnight and summoned an ambulance after they had been unable to get an immediate response from a physician. The baby's condition is serious.

was thought $50 to $60 was taken from the saloon cash register. Tall, fair and thin, about 28 years old, and wearing a dark gray overcoat was the description of the robber, and slender, fair and short, with "keen blue eyes," about 25, and wearing a dark suit and fedora, describes the second.

Huebschen is survived by his mother and a 3-year-old son, besides his wife.

Man Shot by Detective.
KANSAS CITY, April 30.—Walter Bedell, 24 years old, was shot and dangerously wounded by George W. McNally, a detective of the motor theft bureau yesterday, when he attempted to escape arrest. McNally was leading Bedell whom he was questioning concerning the ownership of a motor car when Bedell knocked him down with his elbow. McNally fired from the pavement.

ARMED VERMONT CADETS SENT TO HUNT KIDNAPER

Corps of 300 Mounted Students Ordered to Take Abductor of Girl "Dead or Alive."

By the Associated Press.
GRANVILLE, Vt., April 30.—A man and a girl believed to be Earl Woodward and Lucille Chatterton, abducted from her father's farm here last Friday, were located today in East Brookfield by one of the searchers. Both fled when the searcher fired at the man.

Discovery of the pair was made by George Jerd, Randolph, who was searching alone in the general vicinity of a farm from which cream had been stolen early this morning. Jerd, who was armed only with a pistol, fired two shots, neither of which he believed took effect. When the two fled he ran to a general store in East Brookfield and telephoned for help.

On the Dan Howe place, an abandoned farm, were found a camping outfit and provisions, abandoned by the man and the girl when they ran from Jerd.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
GRANVILLE, Vt., April 30.—Armed with carbines and mounted on cavalry horses, cadets from Norwich University took the field today in search for Earl Woodward, ex-convict and abductor of 11-year-old Lucille Chatterton.

Every cadet volunteered. Fifty upper classmen were selected for the duty. Two hundred and fifty other cadets were held in readiness for an immediate gallop to the mountainside.

The first 50 men, in deployment, spread out fan-shape fashion at the foot of Cran Mountain. Leaving their horses at the base, the cadets advanced in skirmish order through the timber land.

Carry Ball Cartridges.
Every cadet is a crack shot and an expert horseman. The entire outfit carried ball cartridges for their carbines. Some of the cadets were equipped with the regulation saber. Both the cavalry and artillery units at the university participated in the man hunt.

The troops were aroused today at their barracks by the assembly call. Equipment was made ready. Meanwhile, Lieut. MacDonald, United States cavalryman in charge, conferred with President Plumley of the university and cadet officers. Detailed maps of Cran Mountain and the surrounding territory were brought out and the plan of campaign was outlined. Woodward is known to be armed and to be well versed in woodland life. Orders were to get Woodward "dead or alive."

Larger Force Needed.
The request for cadets was made only after it became apparent that a larger force than the seven possums was needed to track Woodward.

Meanwhile, on the summit of Cran Mountain, Walter Chatterton, father of the missing girl, sits alone with gun across his knees determined, he said, to kill Woodward, the young man whom he befriended, on sight.

Traces of Woodward have been found in the woods, but nothing of the girl, supposed to be with him. Footprints from an abandoned schoolhouse on Cran Mountain were declared to be those of Woodward. They were followed and led to tangled underbrush. It was here the possum resumed their search today.

DUET PLAYED ON INSTRUMENTS 40 MILES APART

Musicians Heard Each Other Through Headphones to Crystal Radio Sets.

By the Associated Press.
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, April 30.—A radio duet of violin and piano was broadcast here recently with the players 40 miles apart. Both used head phones attached to crystal sets and were able to hear one another play, so their performance synchronized perfectly. The violinist was in the studio of a broadcasting station, while the sounds of the piano were carried 40 miles by land line.

5-DAY 'RESURRECTION' VIGIL OVER PREACHER'S BODY ENDS
Followers Had Garments Ready for Him to Don in Case He "Awoke" After 3 Days.

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—A five-day "resurrection" vigil ended yesterday when followers of David Lanfer, aged preacher, who before his death last Saturday predicted he would awaken after three days, followed his body to a cemetery and saw it consigned to earth. Lanfer, according to Coroner's records, died early Saturday, but he had told his flock that he would fall into a death-like trance lasting three days, and so, in the hotel room where he passed away, they watched and waited and prayed.

Police heard about it and ordered the body removed to an undertaking establishment which discouraged some of the watchers, but the dead leader's widow and two of his followers renewed their vigil in the mortuary, refused to permit embalming and carried into the room, where the body lay, a complete new outfit of clothing, ready for Lanfer to don when he awoke.

The third day came and went. The watchers refused to give up hope, but yesterday they yielded to the advice of others and took Lanfer to his grave.

DAIRY EMPLOYEE IS KILLED BY FALLING MILK CAN Walter Keiter's Head Crushed by Container He Apparently Tried to Put on Conveyor.

The body of Walter Keiter, 23 years old, chauffeur for the Pevely Dairy Co., was found yesterday at 4:45 p. m. beside a conveyor in the Pevely plant, at Grand boulevard and Chouteau avenue. He had been crushed by one of the 19-gallon milk cans which he had been unloading from his truck and putting on the conveyor. Apparently he had slipped and the can, filled with milk, had fallen. Keiter lived at 2618A Marcus avenue.

WOUNDED IN $2400 HOLDUP
Assistant Treasurer of Orpheum Theater in Kansas City Robbed.

Two men held up the assistant treasurer of the Orpheum Theater here today and escaped with $2400, after shooting the doorman of the theater. The robbery took place in front of the theater when the two started for the bank with the money.

The wounded man, Sam Rabourn, said that he had no chance to draw his revolver.

WITNESS CHARGES SHEPHERD LAWYER MADE BRIBE OFFER

Earl P. Clark Says $5000 Was Tendered for Affidavit but That He Refused.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 30.—Earl P. Clark testified today in the resumed inquest into the death of William N. McClintock, that he had been offered a $5000 bribe by an attorney for William D. Shepherd, under indictment charged with the murder of McClintock by typhoid inoculation, to sign an affidavit which Clark said he never had seen.

Clark, a former employee of Charles C. Falman who has operated a science school where, Falman has testified, he taught Shepherd how to administer typhoid germs to produce death, said that he had two interviews with Attorney William Scott Stewart, Shepherd's counsel, arranged by a reporter for the Chicago Evening American. The reporter, he said, testified that Stewart appeared in the newspaper office with some whisky and that all three had a few drinks. Stewart and Benzinger told him, Clark alleged, that he was likely to be charged with murder as a result of an alleged illegal operation but that they could get prominent attorneys to defend him.

Mentions Dispute.
Suddenly then, Clark mentioned a dispute between himself and Stewart in these words: At last I pulled him out of his chair, and there were words used that would not sound nice here. He refused to fight."

Judge Olsen, instigator of the present inquiry, then interrupted with a question: "What did you fight about?"

"He wanted me to sign an affidavit," Clark replied.

Clark said Stewart and Benzinger said they wanted him to confess that the accusation of Shepherd was a frame-up between the State's Attorney and himself and C. C. Falman and J. P. Marchand.

Later, Clark said, Stewart called him to his own office and offered $5000 if he would sign the affidavit. Stewart, according to Clark, was a frame-up between the State's Attorney and himself and C. C. Falman and J. P. Marchand.

Refused to Sign, He Says.
"When I heard that," said Clark, "I walked over to the stenographer and told her she need not take any more dictation of that sort, as I was not going to sign."

"Stewart asked me to bring my wife, Ernestine, to meet him that night, that he might make the proposition to her, but I did not," Clark said. He was next approached by John E. Jones, head of a private detective agency. Jones told him, Clark testified, he could get Shepherd to give him $50,000 if Clark would "split with Jones."

DISGUISES SELF TO GET GIRL 7; HELD AS A KIDNAPER

Otto F. Grimm, Costumer, Arrested After Taking Child He Reared From Infancy From Residence.

Disguised by wig and false beard and mustache, and wearing overalls, Otto F. Grimm, a costumer, yesterday entered the home of Mrs. Caroline Treffert, 4523A Tennessee avenue, by a ruse and took from the house 7-year-old Virginia Grimm, an orphan, whom he has already taken steps to adopt.

Following the disappearance of the child from her home, Mrs. Treffert called the police and yesterday afternoon Grimm was arrested on a charge of kidnapping. Grimm was named in a kidnapping warrant today after Mrs. Treffert had made her complaint to Assistant Circuit Attorney Fish. Grimm declares the child lived with him and his wife during most of her life.

Woman Adopted Child, She Says.
Virginia is not related to any of the parties in the controversy over her guardianship. Mrs. Treffert told the police yesterday that she had already adopted the child, but Grimm denied her statement today to a Post-Dispatch reporter, and declared he had taken steps to make the child his own daughter.

"She looks upon me as her father and I love her," Grimm said today. "We took her from St. Ann's Asylum, my wife and I, when she was a little baby. At that time we were living at 415 Alma avenue and we kept little Virginia there from September, 1918, when we took her, until late in 1923, when my wife died."

"Mrs. Treffert was the mother of my first wife and after my wife died I went to the Treffert home to board, taking Virginia with me. We lived there until late in 1924, when I told Mrs. Treffert that I was going to marry."

"I had never adopted Virginia and early this year I took the first steps to make her my own daughter. Meanwhile, I took her to St. Ann's and she was going to school. I had married and was living with my second wife at 4265A Hartford street."

'JELLY ROLL' HOGAN GIVES $2500 BOND ON INDICTMENT
Gang Leader Surrenders on Charge of Conspiracy to Violate Dry Law.

"About six weeks ago Virginia disappeared from St. Ann's and I learned that she was at the Treffert home. I couldn't get to see her. Whenever I'd go to the Treffert house on Tennessee avenue it would be locked and no one would let me in. Virginia was kept a prisoner virtually, and I never got a chance to see her."

Grimm's profession, that of costumer and wig maker, offered a solution to the problem.

"I decided to disguise myself," he related. "Yesterday I made myself a man of 60 years, although I am really only 46. I covered my black hair with a white wig and disguised my face with a white mustache and a white beard. "Then I put on an old pair of automobile overalls and pulled a cap down over my hair. The next problem was how to get in. I hired a man to deliver some boxes to the Treffert home. They told him to put the boxes in the cellar. I followed him and went upstairs. I found Virginia there. She didn't know me, but I carried her out to my machine. Then I pulled off my beard and mustache and Virginia threw her arms around my neck. I took her out to my home."

KIDNAPED ORPHAN

VIRGINIA GRIMM.

Presented Flowers to Foe.
After policemen had arrested Grimm the child was taken to St. Ann's, where she will remain until there is some decision in the dispute over who is to have her.

At the home of Mrs. Treffert, denial was made that Grimm had ever been refused admittance to see the child. Instead, it was said, he would prove outside the house and twice policemen were called, but he got away. It was also said that the child's affection is for Mrs. Treffert, and not Grimm.

Little Virginia will be remembered as the tot who greeted Marshal Foch of France when he was here. At that time she was 2 years old. Grimm carried her to Foch's machine with a basket of flowers in her hand and, as she presented the bloom, she lippled: "Salut, mon General," a French salutation, which Grimm had taught her.

Grimm has offices in the Imperial Building, 922 Pine street.

'JELLY ROLL' HOGAN GIVES $2500 BOND ON INDICTMENT
Gang Leader Surrenders on Charge of Conspiracy to Violate Dry Law.

"Jelly Roll" Hogan, gang leader and former State Beverage Inspector, gave $2500 bond, at the Federal building yesterday afternoon, in his indictment on a charge of conspiracy to violate the Volstead act. His co-defendant, Joseph Griseledock, brewer, had furnished bail previously. "Cap" Troll is Hogan's bondsman.

Griseledock and Hogan are charged with responsibility for the shipment of a carload of beer, of Louis to Jefferson City in April, 1923, and Hogan is charged with having distributed it to saloons there.

GIRLS MUST NOT ROLL STOCKINGS.
By the Associated Press.
GLADSTONE, Mich., April 30.—Threats of the girl students of the Gladstone High School to strike were heard here last night, following an order of the school authorities that girls students must not roll their stockings. The boys appeared at the school without neckties and maintain this is as good dress form as rolled stockings for the girls of the school. Two hundred were suspended.

NEGRO FOUND SHOT AND STABBED TO DEATH IN STREET
Body of Charles Lewis on Sidewalk in Front of His Home at 712 Carr Street.

The body of Charles Lewis, known as "Big Eye," a negro, 50 years old, living in the rear of 712 Carr street, was found on the sidewalk in front of that number, killed with bullets following a fusillade of shots heard in the neighborhood at 8:30 p. m. yesterday. An open knife lay a few feet from Lewis. He also had been stabbed in the leg. Six bullet wounds were in the body, three of them in the back.

Emmett Robinson, a negro of 712 Carr street, told police he had heard shots and on running out of his home had found Lewis on the sidewalk and had seen a man running north from the scene.

HURWITZ, NEMESIS OF GRAFTERS, QUILTS

Deputy Finance Commissioner, Who Hit "Blue Sky" Schemes to Aid Prosecutor.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 26.—Bernard T. Hurwitz retires today as Deputy Finance Commissioner, in charge of the "blue sky" division of the State Finance Department, after three years and three months as official State interpreter of the fables and stock prospectus dreams of high-pressure salesmen and "fly-by-night" promoters.

Reliance of the "blue sky" chief, assisted by better business organizations in St. Louis and Kansas City in investigating stock promotion schemes and running down operators illegally selling unregistered securities, has protected Missourians from a possible loss of $12,540,000. It is said, through barring of the sale of doubtful or worthless securities.

Hurwitz has resigned to return to his home in Kansas City, where he will become an assistant to the Prosecuting Attorney of Jackson County. The "blue sky" division, a unit of the Finance Department since its organization in 1921, will become a part of the Secretary of State's department after July 9, under a bill passed by the recent Legislature and signed by the Governor.

Denied 245 Applicants.
Since Jan. 1, 1922, when Hurwitz took over the "blue sky" division, he has denied 245 applications for permits to sell stock aggregating $44,940,000. In that period he has issued $4 "cease and desist" orders against promoters selling stock not complying with the requirements of the Missouri securities act. The stocks the latter class of promoters were attempting to sell aggregate $15,000,000.

Hurwitz has granted 247 permits to companies to sell stocks in Missouri, totaling $37,485,275 at par value.

The stock schemes rejected range from a perpetual motion engine for pumping water from Arizona deserts to a plan to build 500 passenger truck-airships to which passengers across the Atlantic Ocean, with promises of fabulous profits.

The Deputy Finance Commissioner prepared the original draft of the present securities act, considered one of the broadest measures in operation in any of the states.

Among the St. Louis stock selling campaigns put out of business by the department here, those of L. J. Jerome & Co. and Adams & Co., which were attacked as bucket shops.

Early Attacked Hawkins Co.

The department was the first in the country to expose the financial methods of the Hawkins Mortgage Co. of Portland, Ind. Its activities against the Hawkins schemes ultimately led to the Federal Court in Indianapolis, where 27 officers and promoters of the Hawkins projects and allied companies were indicted. Among them were William Sacks, former St. Louis banker and Republican politician, since convicted and who has appealed. Sacks formerly was a trustee of the United Home Builders of America of St. Louis, a housing trust taken over by the Hawkins Co. in which Missouri investors lost heavily.

Among other St. Louis cases was denial of an application of the Continental Gas & Electric Corporation for authority to sell $10,700,000 in stocks and bonds; revocation of the stock selling permit of the General Film Manufacturing Corporation of St. Louis; revocation of the permit of the Mid-Continent Finance Corporation, other litigation which now is pending in the courts; and the breaking up of several "dollar-a-week clubs," attacked as lotteries after complaints of patrons that they were being defrauded.

Texas Ranger Law Is Upheld.
AUSTIN, Tex., April 26.—The law providing for the State Ranger force was held constitutional by the State Supreme Court yesterday, when it denied a writ of error in the appeal of John E. Elgin of San Antonio. Elgin obtained an injunction in a San Antonio District Court several weeks ago, restraining State officials from maintaining the ranger force.

GOV. SMITH FIGHTS BASEBALL POOL

Orders Three Sheriffs in New York to Halt Activities of Albany "Lottery."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 30.—Gov. Smith has directed the Sheriffs of Albany, Schenectady and Rensselaer counties to proceed at once to halt the Albany baseball pool.

The Governor acted on complaint filed before him by an Albany architect, whose name was not disclosed.

Sheriff Claude C. Tibbitts indicated last night that he will ask the Albany city administration and its police force for aid in cleaning up the ball pool.

The Governor in his letter to the Sheriffs pointed out that the Sheriff is the constitutional peace officer with county-wide jurisdiction, and says:

"You will proceed, therefore, forthwith to stop all infractions of the law within your county."

Gov. Smith said that what is now known as the "Albany pool" has grown from "an innocent feature of the baseball season" to a "lottery" known as far east as Boston. It is said the pool distributes $100,000 and more in weekly prizes after deducting all expenses and salaries.

The baseball pool has been open secret about Albany for several years. It has been played, so it is reported, by persons of high and low station. Some in Albany have won small fortunes, as much as $15,000 or $20,000, if they won first prize.

D'ANNUNZIO PLANS LONG FLIGHT

Will Head Party of Flyers on Trip to Buenos Aires.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, April 30.—Plans virtually have been completed, according to the Epoca, for a flight headed by the poet and aviator, Gabriele D'Annunzio from here to Buenos Aires during June.

Two hydro-airplanes will be used and in addition to D'Annunzio the party will include some of Italy's prominent flyers. A Milanese industrialist is financing the flight. The tentative schedule is from Gardone, Italy, to Rome, thence to Gibraltar; Madrid, Morocco; Cape Verde Islands, Fernando Po Island, Pernambuco, Bahia, Rio de Janeiro and Porto Alegre, Brazil, and thence to Buenos Aires.

OVER SEVENTY YEARS OLD FEELS LIKE FORTY

Does All Her Housework and Don't Mind It a Bit. Can Sure Recommend Herb Juice to Anyone.

"I know I am getting old, having celebrated my seventieth birthday, and therefore must take very good care of myself. At present I am in better health than I have been for many long years, and attribute my good physical condition to Herb Juice," stated Mrs. Martha Gurley, 2609 Hebert street, St. Louis, Mo.

And speaking further of her recovery, Mrs. Gurley continued: "I had dreadful pains in my stomach and was often so dizzy that I was almost blind. I was afraid to be alone at all, lest I fall on the floor. I had no appetite and naturally lost several pounds in weight. In addition to this I was very nervous and could not sleep well at night. I knew my condition should be remedied; knew I needed a good tonic-laxative, but what to take was the next question."

"A friend of mine suggested Herb Juice and I immediately sent for a bottle. Today I am in splendid health for a woman of my age and can easily do my housework. I am alone the greater part of the day and now feel perfectly safe, as the blind spells have completely gone, as have the pains in my stomach and head. I eat heartily and am never constipated. My sleep is unbroken at night, and I awake in the morning feeling rested and eager to start my duties of the day. In fact, I feel and look so well that my many friends and acquaintances stop me on the street and remark about how well I look, and I always tell them 'Herb Juice is responsible for all.' I want all my friends to know that Herb Juice is a great medicine and no home should be without a bottle. It is truly a wonderful remedy for persons of all ages, and I sincerely believe there is none better to be found. I sing its praises wherever I go, as I am now a confirmed Herb Juice booster, and there is no reason in the world why I should not be after all that it has done for me."

THE HERB JUICE MAN HAS ESTABLISHED HEADQUARTERS AT JUDGE & DOLPH DRUG CO., 614 WASHINGTON AV. WHERE HE WILL MEET THE LOCAL PUBLIC DAILY, INTRODUCING AND EXPLAINING THE MERITS OF THIS REMEDY. ON SATURDAY NIGHT THE HERB JUICE MAN WILL BE AT JUDGE & DOLPH'S WELLSFON STORE, 6100 EASTON AV.

Friday, May 1
National Child Health Day

YEAR by year, the very far reaching importance of this particular day increases in its tremendous scope and influence.

It is the day officially designated and devoted to a personal survey of the Nation's most precious reserve for the future—its children.

Sponsored by the active interest of women's organizations everywhere—given unquestioned leadership by the Hon. Herbert Hoover and the National Child Health Association, every effort toward the physical and spiritual welfare of children is this day advanced and inspired with renewed resolve.

Vandervoort's, as an institution, is grateful for the opportunity of co-operating in this great work in every way that is possible within our province.

How to Banish Piles

Thousands Know Dr. Leobhardt, the Physician Who Discovered This Common-Sense Remedy.

If you think that the surgeon's knife is the only method of escape from the misery of piles, it is because you haven't heard of the new treatment known as Dr. Leobhardt's REMEDY.

The doctor's treatment is internal. No operation is required. The cause of the piles is removed and then the hemorrhoids are removed and removed a remedy that would remove the cause.

Dr. Leobhardt wants every sufferer to benefit by his discovery and so that there will be no doubting or delay, Wolff-Wilson, Four Co. and all druggists are authorized to sell Dr. Leobhardt's Remedy. It is a small, white, round tablet, and it is as simple as sugar. It should be taken a number of times a day. It is a sure cure for piles.

STOCKING CLEW IN GIRL MURDER MYSTERY

Burned Bit of Paper Bearing Name "H. Schmidt" Also Found by Dog

By the Associated Press
GARY, Ind., April 28.—(Herald)—None of solving the mystery of the death of the girl, whose dismembered and burned body was found Sunday near here, is waiting today.

The upper half of a woman's like stocking and a burned bit of paper bearing the name "H. Schmidt" were the latest clues found yesterday by a police dog found yesterday a partly burned shoe Tuesday and led searchers to a hidden lair.

The empty gasoline can found near the girl's body was identified yesterday by Paul Bishop, attendant at a filling station, as one he sold to three men. The men had driven away in the direction of the place where the body was found, he said.

None of the 500 persons who viewed the body in a Chesterton morgue nor inquiries received from Evansville, Ind., Evansville, and Rockford, Ill., shed any light on the name of the dead girl.

Boy Fatally Scalded.
By the Associated Press
POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., April 28.

The 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Butler of this city was fatally scalded yesterday when he turned over a pot of boiling dumplings. Butler is principal of the local high school.

HITCHCOCK AND ELDER DECLINE CITY POST

Mayor Again Looking for Suitable Material for Counselor Appointment.

Mayor Miller is again looking for suitable City Counselor material, following the refusal yesterday of George C. Hitchcock, former Circuit Judge and Conaway Elder, former member of the Missouri Supreme Court, to accept the appointment to succeed Oliver G. Sentz, the present counselor.

The Mayor has repeatedly asserted that he desired a high-type man of broad experience for the place because of problems likely to arise in connection with the $47,000,000 improvement program, but said today he had no other person definitely in mind.

Both Elder and Hitchcock expressed appreciation of the proffer, but said they could not afford to sacrifice their private law practice to the extent that public service would require. Hitchcock said he had given considerable time to such service already and felt that the Mayor could find another lawyer who could handle the position satisfactorily. Elder stated that he, too, would do all he could in a personal way to help the administration, but felt that he could not make a further business sacrifice.

Both Hitchcock and Elder strongly supported Mayor Miller's candidacy and Elder will be associated with Henry Kortjohn in Miller's defense against the contest to be brought by William L. Igoe.

FORMER CONVICT GIVEN

5-YEAR TERM FOR ROBBERY

William Welch, convicted of stealing woman's purse containing $31, which was recovered. A jury in Circuit Judge Taylor's court, after 15 minutes' deliberation, yesterday convicted William Welch, 26 years old, an ex-convict of $14 Hickory street, of robbery, and sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary. On Jan. 6, Mrs. Rose Smith, 618 North Garrison avenue, while standing on the porch at Eighth and Walnut streets, dropped her purse containing $31 and checks. Welch picked it up and ran, but was caught a block away by police.

Don't Let High Blood Pressure
Shorten Your Life

How to Stop It—Read This.

It may surprise you to know high blood pressure is so serious that insurance companies refuse to issue policies to those who have it. All because it shortens life.

High blood pressure gives little warning and until certain symptoms take hold, you do not know it. They are head pains, flushed face, hot flashes, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and nervousness.

Only a purely vegetable medicine like Norma that drives out the waste matter which clogs the system and forces the heart to do extra work can reduce high blood pressure. Often one bottle of Norma will bring reduction enough to stop the symptoms which distress and worry you.

Norma is a physician's prescription. It worked so wonderfully in his personal practice that it has now been placed in drug stores so that people everywhere can obtain it. Check the uncertainty of high blood pressure by reducing it with Norma.

MARCH SALES SHOW
INCREASE IN DISTRICTFavorable Weather Conditions Had Stimulating Effect on Retail Trade.

Sales during March showed gains over the corresponding period in 1924 in virtually all lines according to the monthly review of business conditions in the Eighth District issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis today. Increases over February totals were the rule. Improvement was particularly notable in lines dealing in goods for ordinary consumption, such as food, clothing and drugs and chemicals.

Weather conditions were ideal, the report notes, as contrasted with last year, both for work on the farms and general merchandising and industrial activities. The condition continued throughout early April. The seasonable weather, especially immediately preceding Easter, had a stimulating effect on retail trade.

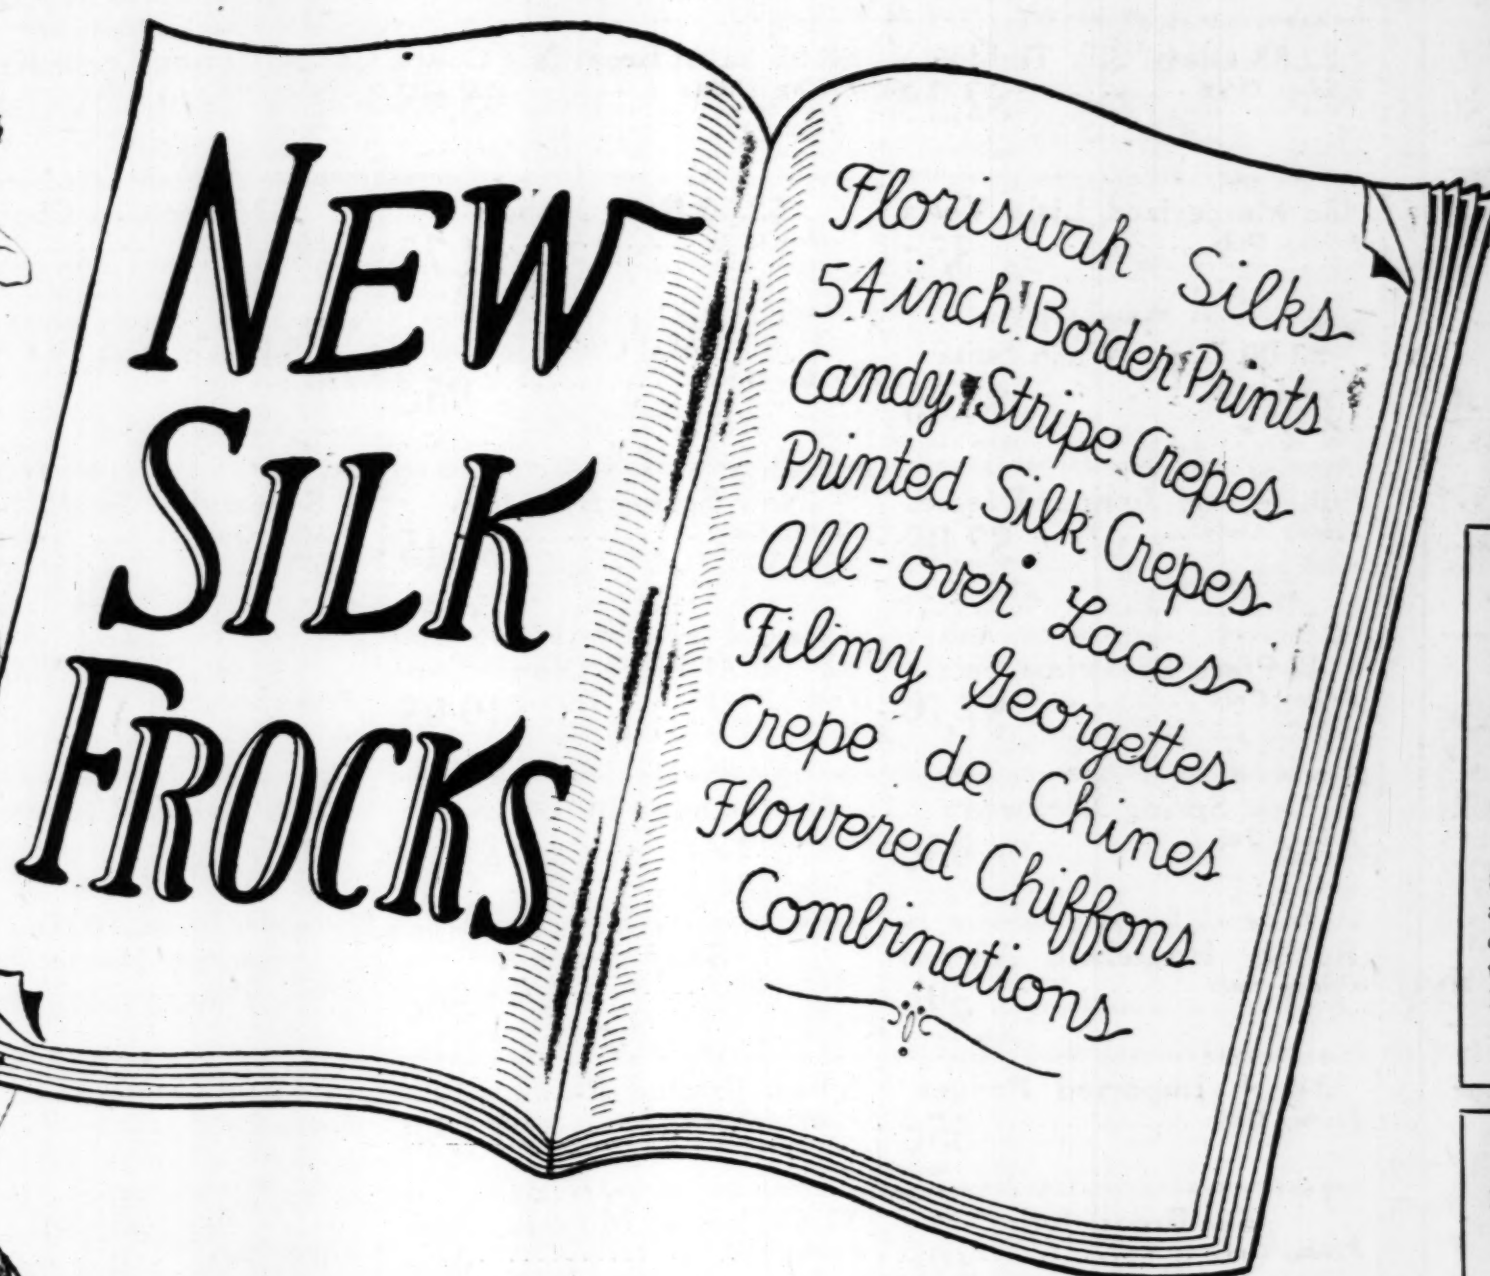

Coal operators are reported to be experiencing difficulty in disposing of outputs, despite curtailments. Freight traffic continues to surpass all previous records for this time of year. Automobile production and sales also continue to set records. Sales of boots and shoes showed an 11% increase over March, 1924. Clothing showed sharp gains. Flour production showed a decrease.

THE Inexpensive Dress Shop flaunts gay Summer colors and fabrics, and with its scores of new styles, tells a picturesque story of many smart Summertime affairs.

A "close-up" of these Frocks reveals their infinite superiority and their resemblance to Frocks much higher in price. Fine detail in trimming, beautifully contrasted combinations, correctness of styling, with pleats, ruffles, jabots, laces, tiers, godets—all add to their effectiveness.

Even the most casual observer will recognize the fact that they are very "closely" priced, and values quite out of the ordinary.

The Mysterious Runaway Bag

When Dirck Lanier wrested from his rascally cousin Elbert the one thing left in life that was precious, and fought for its safety across three continents, was he a hero—or a thief? Had the crash of the London-Paris airplane buried the dead past forever—or did something more than chance lead that silent, bearded Arab to the attic bedroom of an obscure Algerian hotel? And why did the Sheik Sidi-ibn-Raschdan wear a white bandage on his right hand—and what did Fay know that fatal morning when the ape, with a screech of agony, darted up the cliff? And who—but you must read for yourself The Runaway Bag, by Albert Payson Terhune, the fastest-moving, most enthralling mystery story in years—in the May issue of The Journal. Now on sale, 10 cents.

CONFESSIONS OF A DUB FATHER

It's a serious business, this being a father—but there's a lot of humor in it too, if you can just be honest enough to admit that as a father you are probably a high-grade dub. Frederic F. Van de Water slips behind your laughs and chuckles more than a grain of solid truth in Confessions of a Dub Father.

HENRY WAS DOOMED

—from the day Connie walked up from the five-and-ten and took her place in his office—but even after a dozen years of marriage he didn't quite realize it. Booth Tarkington, speaking of this story, Beggar's Choice, by David Ross, says, "That he can write to large effect is proven, I think, by Beggar's Choice."

SOME OF THE OTHER GOOD THINGS IN THE BIG 232-PAGE MAY ISSUE NOW ON SALE

Apple or Watermelon?—Whichever one Adam ate, there's a lot of the old Adam in all of us yet, says William Lyon Phelps, in Original Sin.

Shipwrecked and Adrift—A girl, two men, a great temptation, and a greater love—Edith Barnard Delano's The Face of the Waters.

Her Royal Highness Hoblin—in Christine Jope-Slade's romance.

A Poor Lost Soul—how a young girl plumed his sorrow and brought him contentment, is the theme of G. Appleby Terrill's In St. Martin's Summer-Land.

Home Lovers—no one can possibly afford to miss Ethel Davis Sea's The American Wing, describing the splendid exhibition of early American furniture just opened by the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"That's Him!"—whispered in the darkness, a rush of feet, a blow—and Buckbarrow falls into the care of Miss Patricia, in the current installment of Freeman Tilden's The Virtuous Husband.

A Cat May Look at a King—but New York a generation ago scarcely glanced at kings or princes, says Mrs. Van Rensselaer, in Entertaining Royalty. The Business Side of Housekeeping, by Mildred Maddocks Bentley—aims in budgeting, and in making the budget work smoothly.

And dozens of other articles—many pages of fashions, patterns, interior decoration, house-furnishing, building plans; needlework, etc.—all treated by experts.

MILLSPAUGH WILL ASK TO BE HEARD BY GRAND JURY

Discharged Finance Officer
Would Explain How He Received $500 Fee in Receivership Case.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 30.—Frank C. Millsbaugh, ousted State Finance Commissioner, announced here last night he would ask to appear before the Jackson County grand jury next Tuesday to explain his connection with the $500 fee received from the National Loan and Savings Depository, now being investigated under the direction of the Attorney-General. Millsbaugh, charged Robert W. Otto, Attorney-General, had refused repeatedly to hear his explanations.
The investigation here was characterized by Millsbaugh as continuation of the effort to discredit him. Millsbaugh declared he would have given Otto information as vital as it would "have altered his course" had Otto given him an interview just before Gov. Baker removed him from office.
Ousted After Myers' Confession
Millsbaugh has maintained a studied silence since Roy T. Myers, former cashier of the defunct Citizens' Trust Co. at Gorin, Mo., charged, in a confession to the Attorney-General at El Paso, Tex., that Millsbaugh had been paid $29,500 to protect the wobbly Gorin bank against examination.
It was Myers' confession which led to the removal of Millsbaugh and the investigation of the connection of Jerome B. McCutchan of St. Louis, former friend of Millsbaugh, with the Gorin bank crash.
Under the law, the indictment cannot be returned against a defendant summoned before a grand jury.
Millsbaugh's statement follows: "Every official act of mine is open to the most intense scrutiny and it was my desire and aim to give to the Attorney-General all information and facts of every nature in connection with the affairs of the Finance Department. Prior to the published interview with Myers in the Gorin case, the Attorney-General, at my solicitation, made three separate arrangements for a conference with me, all of which were subsequently refused by him. Upon his return from El Paso I again sought an interview, which he agreed to give me upon my statement to him that I would be very glad indeed to give him all the facts in connection with the Gorin Bank case in the files of the department. Upon my appearance in his office at the time appointed by him, he repudiated his agreement for an interview and stated that he would not talk with me until after he had talked with Gov. Baker. Since that time he has not granted me any conference or interview whatever.
"The Attorney-General at no time has given me an opportunity to make an explanation, despite the fact I told him the information I would give him would alter his course. All of the true information in connection with the affairs of the Finance Department could and would have been furnished the Attorney-General by me in the interviews which were promised to me and then refused, and such information would not have been of a sensational, garbled character.
"The action in Kansas City in regard to the National Loan and Savings seems to be a continuation of the effort to discredit me.
"The National Loan and Savings was one of the 21 housing trusts placed in my hands in receiverships on the same day in different sections of the State and at a time when the department already was overburdened and operating with an entirely inadequate force. In this case the arrangement made was entirely satisfactory to the trustees of this housing trust and the department had no knowledge of any dissatisfaction until two years after this arrangement was effected.
"In a conference of a trustee of the company, attorneys for the receiver and the examiners of the department and the commissioner, acting as receiver, this plan was agreed upon as being entirely satisfactory to all parties concerned. The company was to pay $500 to meet the costs of the temporary receivership and this sum was deposited in the Commerce Trust Co., where it now is and has been all the time.
"It must be borne in mind that this money was paid to me as receiver, not as Commissioner of Finance. It was taken, held and will be distributed for the payment of the costs and attorneys' fees as agreed upon by the representatives for the company and if any is left as directed by the court it then becomes the property of the State. Not one penny was received by me personally in this or any other of the cases, and the Attorney-General easily could have satisfied himself on these points by examining the books of the Finance Department.
"I did not handle this money. Examiner Mueller deposited the money to the account of the receiver in the Commerce Trust Co. "I see no reason why Mr. Millsbaugh should not be permitted to appear." Raymond D. Havens, foreman of the grand jury said today. "Of course, he would be compelled first to waive immunity from indictment."
The grand jury will reconvene Tuesday.

IGOE CONTEST SUIT TO BE FILED SATURDAY

Data on Which Action Will Be Based All in Hands of His Attorneys.

Machinery for prosecuting and defending the contest of the election of Mayor Miller by William L. Igoe, Democratic nominee for Mayor, is assembled and awaiting the filing of the Democratic contest petition Saturday. All evidence in the possession of Democratic leaders has been turned over to attorneys representing Igoe and the drafting of the petition is in progress.

Republicans have 15 days in which to reply before the case comes to issue in court, and are gathering evidence to defend the suit.

Circuit Clerk John Schmoll, chairman of the Republican Investigating Committee, said today that two special railroad agents had agreed to assist in investigating without compensation.

The Republican Finance Committee, of which Ben F. Edwards, president of the National City Bank is chairman, will meet at Republican City Committee headquarters in the Planters' Building late today to prepare actively for the raising of funds to defend the contest.

Schmoll said that reports received from 50 precincts indicated that Mayor Miller would gain on a recount. He said it was evident that judges in most instances had counted votes for Igoe where a Republican ticket was voted straight with the exception that Miller's name was scratched and Igoe's written in. The Election Board, following an opinion from former Attorney-General Barrett, instructed that this was to be counted as a vote for Mayor Miller, but Schmoll believes the order was ignored.

BALDWIN CONSIDERS HARD

LOT OF FUTURE PREMIERS

"No One Will Want Job When Transatlantic Radio Speaking Is Added to Duties."

By the Associated Press

LONDON, April 29.—The Prime Minister, Stanley Baldwin, presided last night at the sixth reunion dinner of the British War Missions to the United States. Every one of these missions, the Prime Minister smilingly remarked, went over to the United States to contract debts, which they left him to pay. Telegrams were read from King George, President Coolidge, Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador at Washington, John W. Davis, former American Ambassador at London; Frank B. Kellogg, Secretary of State; Gen. Pershing and others interested in Anglo-American friendship. Baldwin referred to the message from Davis, expressing the hope that the time might be near when the peoples of Great Britain and the United States might speak directly to one another.

"Good grant that that time may be distant," said Premier Baldwin. "It is quite hard enough to have to go out night after night and make speeches in London, and if to that we add this, that one has to make speeches across 3000 miles of water, I doubt if any man could be found to occupy the position of either of Prime Minister or Ambassador." In concluding he said there was today as much need for an understanding, co-operation and mutual help between the two nations as there ever was in the time of war.

ASSOCIATION OF HORSEMEN

SEEKS STATE CHARTER

Application for a charter for the Missouri Association of Horsemen was filed in the Circuit Court yesterday. The petition sets forth that the association was formed for the purpose of encouraging and promoting educational and scientific research as to horses and mules, and "to stimulate and conduct the holding of horse shows, fairs and meets of horsemen" and to "exercise its influence in assuming control and directing races or contests of speed and endurance between horses as may be conducted in the State, except at the State or local fairs, so as to prevent violations of the law."

A further object is to promote the breeding and development of the horses for "true recreational and sportsmanship purposes without incurring the displeasure of persons to the detriment of the horse and the horseman's industry."

James Houchin signed the petition as president. Other signers are Dr. William C. Gadsby, W. Rufus Jackson, Joseph A. Murphy, E. E. Major, B. A. Jones, R. F. Conpage, C. W. Hall, Edward L. Baskwell and John J. Reiger. The petition was assigned to Judge Hottel.

724 ENROLL FOR CAMPS

Seven hundred and twenty-four Arkansas and Missouri youths have been enrolled here for the Citizens' Military Training Camps, which open Aug. 1. Lieutenant-Colonel William N. Clendenin, Chief of Staff of the 102d Division, announced today.

Only 2400 young men are being sought here for the camps, which will be held at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Fort Snelling, Minn., and Des Moines, Ia. Of the 724 youths who have applied, 244 have been to previous camps. The number already enrolled, according to Clendenin points to a completion of the quota for the camps well before the time for going to camp. The Government pays all expenses of apartment, food, uniform, laundry and tent, the ages of 17 and 25 are applicants, including that of railroad equipment. Men be eligible.

At the end of a busy day what story do your floors tell?

Two different offices
Two different floors

In one office, three cleaners labor far into the morning trying to get the old wood floor presentable for another busy day.

In the other, cleaning is much simpler and far cheaper. It takes one man only a few hours to sweep dust and dirt from the smooth-surfaced floor. Then he quickly glides over the floor with an electric polisher. That is all. No scrubbing. No periodic oiling.

And what a different floor! It is an impressive floor, too—a dignified floor—a permanent floor of Armstrong's Linoleum.

Lay these new floors right over your old

In business offices, in shops, churches, and schools—wherever the public walks—bright, handsome floors of Armstrong's Linoleum are fast replacing wood and bare concrete.

An Armstrong Floor can be laid right over your old flooring, permanently cemented in place over a heavy lining of builders' deading felt. Such a floor adds new dignity, new smartness to any room in which it is laid. It quiets footsteps, makes walking easier. It cuts down cleaning costs.

A store in town will gladly give you estimates

Consult any merchant or contractor who makes a specialty of installing Armstrong's Linoleum Floors. Ask him to show you the many new floor patterns now on display—beautiful natural marbles; hand-set tiles; the new rippled Jaspés in browns, greens, and grays; and hundreds of others.

Let this merchant estimate on the complete job. You will be agreeably surprised when you learn how little a permanent, efficient floor of Armstrong's Linoleum will cost you.

This new booklet tells how to save floor costs. Send for it. Its forty-eight pages are filled with floor facts. A post card request for "Business Floors" will bring it to you promptly.

TAMPA, Fla., April 20.—William Jennings Bryan has taken strong exception to published stories that he has become a millionaire through his Florida real estate investments. But he admits that he expects to have about $500,000 to invest when he retires from his realty ventures and places his money in bonds, as he intends to do.

Bryan, who has lectured daily during the season in behalf of the Coral Gables development enterprise at Miami, has written from his home at Coconut Grove to E. D. Lambright, editor of the Tampa Morning Tribune, a letter in which he protests against "unfriendly" editorials calling him a real estate millionaire.

He wrote that he selected Lambright's columns as a channel of protest because of Lambright's fair attitude. Lambright was chairman of the Florida delegation to the Democratic national convention in Madison Square garden.

Senatorial Rumors.

Numerous editorials commenting on Bryan's realty activities have indicated a belief that he was preparing to announce his candidacy for the United States Senate.

Referring to the story that he has become a millionaire, Bryan writes:

"This rumor seems to have traveled over the country quite rapidly, illustrating the fact that falsehood is more swift of foot than truth and, if I may judge by some of the editorials that have been sent me, it is more acceptable than the truth. Most of the editorials brought to my attention are from unfriendly papers and unkind in tone.

"I am not a millionaire. I am far from it and never shall be, but I have been fortunate in the matter of finances. There never has been a year since my first nomination in which I could not have made a million had I taken the side of privilege and favoritism. I preferred to make money more slowly by lecturing and have accumulated all I need."

"Unexpected Profits."

After reviewing a lecture career of 25 years, in which many of his talks were without pay, Bryan proceeds:

"The unexpected profits that I have made in Miami real estate have so increased my savings that I now have the promise of an income that will fully meet the new conditions as the income from my earnings alone would have met old conditions."

"I have sold nearly all my property, including my first home here, Villa Serena, except the new and less valuable home into which we moved last fall. When the remainder of my property is turned into interest-bearing securities, I can reasonably expect to have, for the first time in my life, an income sufficient for the needs of Mrs. Bryan and myself, even when I am no longer able to add to that income by literary work."

"When we moved from Nebraska we gave our home, valued by us at $50,000 and by those who received it at more than $75,000, to the Methodist Church for a hospital. The value of that gift alone was more than one-tenth of all the profits I ever have received from real estate. It is more than a tenth of the profits I ever will receive on real estate. Our subscriptions to churches in this State have amounted to more than $10,000 within the past year."

Assails "Predatory Interests."

Bryan says that he is a tenth of his income. He has given more than $10,000 to churches in Florida in the last year, indicating that his profits for the year have been at least $100,000.

He assails the "predatory interests" for having fought him because of his attacks on them, and adds, "That is why they never overlook a new opportunity in the exaggerated accounts of the profits I have made in Florida real property, they began these attacks long before I came to Florida." The letter concludes:

"I wonder if my friends ever inquire why I seem to be one of the few public men whose private affairs are considered public property—there is an unintended compliment in these attacks. Political enemies continue to search for something to condemn, which would indicate that their search of more than 20 years is still unwearied."

Karolyi's Suppressed Story Only Solution for Hungary Is to Establish Republic

Says Restoration of Hapsburgs Would Mean Attempt to Reunite Old Empire and Renew Alliance With Germany.

THE Post-Dispatch prints today the fourteenth of a series of articles written by Count Karolyi of Hungary, telling the story he could not reveal in speeches in this country because of a pledge exacted from him by the State Department in Washington before the Hungarian exile was permitted to land in the United States. The public is already familiar with this "gagging" of Karolyi. Now that he has left the country, he has written for the Post-Dispatch the things he wanted to say to the American people.

By COUNT MICHAEL KAROLYI. It was the Archduke Joseph, himself, member of the Hapsburg family and its exponent in Hungary, who at the time the National Committee was first organized, came before it and swore, with his right hand lifted to the sky and his left hand pressed to his heart, that he would accept all the decisions of the National Committee and when it was decided that I should become President of the Republic of Hungary, up he came with all his decorations and with quivering voice and tears in his eyes, he swore allegiance again. This man was regularly afflicted with this new illness, unknown up to that time—the swearing mania. He swore at noon; he swore at midnight, and with him and after him, the whole aristocracy, and the whole Roman Catholic clergy also swore as if they had never done anything else in all their lives. I could publish not one but hundreds of documents proving how those very legitimists and Horthyans today were crouching around me and calling me the greatest patriot of their time.

The question whether Hungary should be a republic or a kingdom is not purely a Hungarian matter. It is closely connected with the whole central and eastern European problem.

Two Serious Possible Courses. There are only two serious possible courses for Hungary with perhaps a third afterward. One is the re-establishment of the Hapsburgs; the other, the formation of a Hungarian republic. The possible third is that of a so-called national king or the election of some foreign prince to the Hungarian throne. It would, however, be superfluous to deal with this question. Such a combination would have all the disadvantages of the kingdom without the advantages of tradition and history.

Certain events in Hungary's history have important bearing on her present and future government. In 1848 Louis Kossuth wanted to separate Hungary from Austria. At that time he had no intention of wanting to isolate his country. His plan was a confederation of the states surrounding the Danube. The struggle for the independence of Hungary was ruthlessly broken down by the Hapsburgs with the aid of the Russian Czar. In 1867 Franz Joseph, having been defeated by the Prussian King in the battle of Sadova, was bound to make a compromise with the Hungarians. This compromise was not made so much by the Hungarians and the Austrians as between the Hungarians and nobility and the Austrian Emperor.

This settlement, which is known abroad under the name of "Ausgleich," decided that Hungary should not to a full extent regain her freedom, but only to a certain extent. It was understood that in Austria the Germans and in Hungary the Magyars, composing the minority of the whole of Austria-Hungary, should rule and govern the majority of the citizens—the non-German and non-Magyar majority (most of them Slavs) and should play the leading part.

Catholics Opposed Change. The Hungarians nobility agreed to give up in this way a portion of its freedom to Austria on condition that she should have a free hand to rule; that is, to oppress the so-called other nationalities in Hungary. This unilateral and undemocratic regime was the basis on which the Hapsburgs and the Hungarian nobility were enjoying a specific situation in both these countries up to 1914, the beginning of the war. The Slavs and the other nationalities tried over and over again to change the structure of this compromise, and to reshape Austria-Hungary into a federal state. This effort was unsuccessful, and Emperor Joseph, who died at the end of 1916, the Hungarian aristocracy and the Roman Catholic clergy opposed every effort in this direction.

It is only since the war the legitimists became followers of that very federation idea with the aim of getting the support of the allies, and that of the newly-formed states. Of course, they are too late.

Center of Reaction. The Hapsburgs have been the

SMILEY ASSAILS HIS ASSOCIATES ON SUPERVISORY BODY

"Closed Specifications" in Letting County Bids One of His Subjects of Complaint.

BLAMES PREISS FOR BOND ISSUE FAILURE

"Speaking of Cabell Contract, I Didn't Go Out and Celebrate That Night," He Says.

Richard S. Smiley, presiding member of the St. Louis County Court, as the county's board of supervisors is officially called, told his two associate members very forcibly, at yesterday afternoon's session, what he thought of some of the methods which the body has followed in transacting county business.

The first one would like to reduce the sovereignty of the states to a kind of autonomy ruled in a centralized manner by the Austrian Emperor; the other does not want to destroy the sovereignty of the states and strives only to form an economic unity in which the rights of the minorities would be respected. The first conception would only be possible by means of force, that is, by war. The second wants to build up this new unity gradually and in a peaceful manner, under mutual understanding and agreement.

Predicts Activity by Hapsburgs. In favor of a re-establishment of the Hapsburgs, one might quote that this family has great traditions in Hungary as well as in Austria; that it would have the support of the Roman Catholic Church as well as that of the Protestant Hohenzollern family, as the Hapsburgs are of German origin. Looking at the situation in this way, Hungary can be regarded only as a stepping stone for the Hapsburgs who inevitably must and will try to re-establish not only the old Austro-Hungarian empire and kingdom, but they would try to re-establish an alliance with the German Empire without which their reign in the eastern part of Europe is practically impossible.

The weakness of the Hapsburgs in Austria-Hungary before the war was that being German sympathists toward the mighty Reich toward Austria. This Austro-German alliance was beaten during the war. It turned out to be too weak against the overwhelming power of the Slavs and the western allies. A revival of this same political system would not be stronger but weaker in the second edition. A policy like this could be carried out only by the overthrowing of all that has happened through the war. A restoration would mean war with Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Italy, France and other countries.

For the countries surrounding Hungary it is a question of life and death to prevent this re-establishment of the European map. It is very improbable that war of this kind would end with the victory of the Hapsburgs; as numerically and strategically they would be in an inferior position. But even if we would admit, just for the sake of arguing that the imperial armies would be successful, a war like this would have such a terrible economic result for all that it would mean bankruptcy of the whole of central Europe.

Question of Republic. Austria-Hungary would be in no better position as a monarchy now than it was just before and during the war. The majority of the monarchists have not the welfare of the country at heart.

The other possibility for Hungary is a republic. Although it is undeniable that the retro-ethically Republican form of government approaches democracy more than a monarchy, one must acknowledge that the Republic form is not alone a safeguard for democracy and it is quite possible that a monarchy should be more democratic than a republic. I admit to this and I still in favor of a republic in Hungary. I have my special reasons for this.

First of all, it must not be forgotten that the Hapsburgs' traditions are extremely reactionary. This family hasn't the tradition of the English kings where the Parliament has been for hundreds of years been so powerful that the king is more a figurehead than anything else. The Hapsburgs are Roman Catholics, and although I haven't anything against their religion, which happens to be my own, I am opposed to the policy and the influence of the Vatican which for centuries hasn't followed the spirit of the great Founder of Christianity. Ages ago, the leading Hapsburgs of reaction and the champion fighter against all progressive ideas.

BANKER'S OFFER TO PAY DEPOSITORS IN FULL REJECTED

Millsbaugh Refused Plan of President of Closed Kansas City Bank to Bond Himself to State.

FEEES AND EXPENSES NOW EXCEEDS $33,000

To Cut Liquidation Cost, Fred T. Platt Offered to Give His Services Free of Charge in Liquidation.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch. KANSAS CITY, April 30.—How Frank C. Millsbaugh, when State Finance Commissioner, turned down an offer by the president of the closed Live Stock State Bank of this city to bond himself to pay depositors 100 cents on the dollar, thus interfering with Millsbaugh's fee system, has been told here by a representative of Attorney-General Otto, who is investigating Millsbaugh's administration of the Finance Department.

Already fees of $20,000 have been requested by Millsbaugh's aids, in addition to expenses exceeding $12,000. A $10,000 fee has been allowed and another one is under consideration.

On Nov. 2, 1923, the bank voluntarily closed its doors when a larger bank, which had been clearing for it, stopped doing so on short notice. It had capital and surplus of $237,596. Total assets and liabilities balanced at $1,174,806 and these were taken in charge by the Finance Department. Depositors have received 50 cents on the dollar, and stockholders nothing.

Offered to Pay Every Dollar. An aviator from Kansas City with Commissioner Millsbaugh, Fred T. Platt, president of the bank, wrote on Feb. 27, 1924, to Millsbaugh at Jefferson City: "You have told me on two different occasions that you could not consider my proposition of liquidating the Live Stock State Bank but am still wondering if in some way it might not be possible."

"You are mainly interested in having the county paid in full and my proposition was to give an acceptance bond to the State, by which I would be bound to pay them every dollar."

"The assets may not liquidate as well as we all expect, but by this deal with me, the State could make sure now of all they hope to do in the end."

"My friends think I am foolish to assume this responsibility, but as I am a lawyer, I feel that the department might vary some from its usual practice in order to assure the Live Stock State depositors getting all their money."

Reply of Millsbaugh. The following day Millsbaugh replied: "In our last conversation on this subject I pointed out to you several difficulties in the way of appointing you as Special Deputy Commissioner to liquidate the affairs of the Live Stock State Bank, all of which seem to me to prevent such action, and there is one outstanding objection, which I named to you at that time, and which I plan to refer to the situation which would be brought about by the directors of the bank and which would place both you and the department in a very embarrassing situation."

"Furthermore, I am unable to understand, if in the event $300,000 is able to furnish bond to pay the depositors in full, why you cannot finance the proposition, paying off the depositors now, and then let the department turn the assets of the bank over to the stockholders for liquidation as is provided by law."

Platt, in return, inquired where there could be cause for suit if depositors were paid in full. For him personally and immediately to pay them would require $230,000 in cash, which would be hard to raise, he added.

Platt Offered Services Free. Millsbaugh's next letter was brief stating he had nothing to add to the previous one. Platt then wrote: "A large proportion of the paper of the Live Stock State being farmers' notes, the liquidation is going to be slow and that account more expensive."

"To cut this liquidation cost, I offered, if appointed liquidating agent, to give my services without charge, because if I guarantee to pay the depositors in full I must cut the liquidation cost to a minimum."

"Now, if the depositors of the bank petition you to appoint me, would that clear away the obstacles that seem to prevent you from doing that?"

MAX EASTMAN SAYS SOVIET DEPOSED TROTSKY BECAUSE HE WANTED DEMOCRACY

In New Book He Says Campaign of "Official Lies" Was Waged Against Lenin's Designated Successor.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, April 30.—Leon Trotsky was driven out of power in Russia, although Nikolai Lenin before he died expressly designated Trotsky as his successor, says Max Eastman, former editor of the Liberator, New York, in a book just published in London, entitled "Since Lenin Died."

The triumvirate, Stalin, Zinovieff and Kameneff—suppressed Lenin's dying statement to this effect, says the American radical. Lenin, on his deathbed, although he wanted to do so, was unable to block them as they carried on "a month-long campaign of unscrupulous falsification" by means of "official lies" and "unrestricted vituperation against Trotsky." They did it, says Eastman, to depolarize Trotsky, to use their own words.

Eastman introduces letters, speeches and private remarks through 150 pages of condemnation of small groups of those whom he quotes Lenin as calling unbelievers, waverers, doubters and traitors, and who are at the head of bureaucracy of 18,000 officials. These, Eastman says, have disguised their own thirst for power under the legend of Trotsky as a Bonaparte, and have established and solidified to an extremely dangerous degree a dictatorship of officialdom within the communist party.

Honesty Thrown to Winds. He says they have "thrown to the winds that political honesty which was the essence of Lenin's character and teaching," turning against Trotsky what Lenin himself had long ago called "the monstrous and senseless lie" the statement that Trotsky differed from Lenin in his attitude toward the peasants.

They were able to put Trotsky in such a false position that one of his strongest supporters declared he did not dare defend Trotsky in the meetings they organized against him.

They were able to poison opinion against Trotsky, Eastman says, "because the whole business of publicity and sale and distribution of literature is in their hands." They were able to put Trotsky's words before the public in twisted form, and "Trotsky's true words do not appear in public to refute their statements."

Eastman's attack on bolshevik officialdom evidently is inspired by the earnest enthusiasm for Lenin's policies. His appreciation of Trotsky's character is high, but not uncritical. Eastman emphasizes that Trotsky himself made no effort to stay the flow of calumny.

Eastman's attack on bolshevik officialdom evidently is inspired by the earnest enthusiasm for Lenin's policies. His appreciation of Trotsky's character is high, but not uncritical. Eastman emphasizes that Trotsky himself made no effort to stay the flow of calumny.

Eastman says Trotsky did not even read the many attacks on him in the official newspapers or make any effort to refute them.

Eastman says he is printing the answer Platt's question, and Platt promptly repeated it. Then, on March 21, 1924, in his final letter to Platt, Millsbaugh said: "A petition by the stockholders of the bank would not change my attitude in the matter. In this connection I desire to call your attention to the fact that the interests of the depositors of the bank are paramount to those of the shareholders. I am very sorry indeed that your plan cannot be adopted for the reasons set forth in our previous correspondence."

Millsbaugh selected William E. West as Special Deputy Finance Commissioner and Charles M. Blackmar as special attorney to represent him in the liquidation. West and Blackmar each have applied to Circuit Judge Austin for a $10,000 fee, and Blackmar's fee has been allowed.

Filed Protest Against Fees. In a letter of protest to Judge Austin, Jan. 6 last, Platt pointed out that West, commissioned on Jan. 25, 1924, to take charge of the Live Stock State Bank, had spent most of his time away from it, as he was busy in the organization of the Southwest Trust Co., of which he became vice president. Since West became interested in the Southwest Trust, "one day a week would more than cover all the time he has given to the affairs of the Live Stock State Bank," Platt wrote, concluding: "It's hard to reconcile the fact that the Commissioner of Finance receives $5000 a year and gives all his time and attention, then Mr. West, who takes $10,000 for less than one-fourth of his time for less than a year in liquidating our bank, which, as you know, was a small institution."

Three Jobs for Banker West. "Now Mr. West and Mr. Blackmar say they think they will be able to pay depositors from 90 to 95 per cent. Am sure the depositors will feel that they should be taken under consideration in fixing the fees. * * * The fees must come from their deposits."

Blackmar's fee had already been allowed, but West's still is under question. In December, 1923, West and Blackmar each had been allowed a $10,000 fee by Circuit Judge Lucas for their services in liquidating the American State Bank of this city, which has paid in depositors 90 per cent so far. Thus West now, by Millsbaugh's act, is in charge of the liquidation of two banks, while, at the same time, privately engaged as vice president of the Southwest Trust Co.

AMUNDSEN PLANS TO SPEND DAY AT THE NORTH POLE

Explorer Hopes to Fly the 600 Miles From Island Off Spitzbergen to Top of World in 24 Hours.

PLANS HAVE 1500-MILE FLYING RADIUS

Expedition Expects to Settle Question of Whether or Not Land Is to Be Found at the Arctic Pole.

Correspondence of the Associated Press. OSLO, Norway, April 12.—Capt. Rold Amundsen, veteran explorer and Norway's entry in the 1925 race to reach the North Pole by air, has virtually completed his preparations for the airplane flight from Dane's Island, off the northwest coast of Spitzbergen, and if all goes well, hopes to hop off on his adventurous journey late in May or early in June. He expects that the trip may be made within 24 hours at the most, with an extra 24 hours at the pole if ice conditions permit a landing there.

Capt. Amundsen's flight will be a true race for the pole, for Grettir Alagarsson, a young British Columbian, has organized a polar expedition which sails shortly from Liverpool, England, and will attempt to beat the Norwegian explorer at his own game. Alagarsson plans to use a small, nonrigid airship, similar to the "blimp," and has already announced that he intends to reach his goal before Capt. Amundsen if it is humanly possible.

Two Attempts Fail. Twice before Capt. Amundsen, who discovered the South Pole and was first of all explorers to circumnavigate the globe by sailing to the northward of the continents of Europe, Asia and North America, has attempted to fly to the northern tip of the world. His first attempt, from Wainwright, Alaska, failed when his plane was damaged in a test flight from the base and could not be repaired. The second, which was to have started from Spitzbergen last year, had to be given up because of lack of finances.

The third attempt, friends of the explorer believe, will be made under the most favorable auspices, and, barring accident, should succeed. A force of nearly 40 men will be stationed at Dane's Island to establish a base, tune up the machines and heavy guns, and pay attention they require. Sufficient spare parts have been assembled to take care of any possibility of breakdown except the actual smash-up of the planes, and the two planes that will be used in the flight have been given every expert that ingenuity could devise, passing them all without a flaw being found.

Amundsen an Aviator. Skilled aviators will pilot them and it is probable that Capt. Amundsen himself, he has already qualified as an aviator in the Norwegian army test, will handle the controls of the leading machine for a part of the flight at least.

The explorer's principal aid in his flight will be Lincoln Ellsworth, a young American aviator who served in the French and American air services during the war. Carl Schutte-Prokling, chief of the Dornier plants in Fiesch, Italy, and a noted mechanical expert, will supervise the fitting out of the machines at Dane's Island, and H. Volt, a German mechanical engineer, will act as mechanic in Capt. Amundsen's plane. Lieut. Auerdel and Dietrichsen, well-known pilots, also will be members of the expedition.

Six Weeks' Provisions. The explorer hopes to fly the approximately 600 miles from Dane's Island to the Pole, remain there for a day for the purpose of scientific investigation, and return direct to Dane's Island. Provisions for six weeks will be carried in the planes, which will be fitted with skis for landing on the frozen icefields of the Arctic, and guns and ammunition will be carried so that in case of accident the lives of the members of the party may be sustained by shooting game, which is said to exist even in the extreme north.

The planes will have an action radius of about 1500 miles, 150 miles more than the round trip distance from Dane's Island to the Pole, and will be equipped with the latest devices for aerial navigation, including radio. Each plane is powerful enough to care for all members of the party should its companion break down, and in case of serious mishap to both machines the explorer thinks it will be possible, with luck, to reach civilization again by ski travel.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Hindenburg's Election.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE election of Hindenburg is the perfectly natural result of sitting on a fallen adversary. If you go into a fight and get licked, and your adversary sits on you, you may feel exhausted for a while until you get your breath, then you will spring up and throw your tormentor as far as you can.

Making Germany pay for the war may be good economics and just retribution, but as the young Germans grow up, they are going to ask: "Who is this foreign bird sitting in the Customs Office?"

Can you imagine us, even though we were licked in a war, tolerating a foreign officer in our revenue offices, taking a dime or a quarter out of every dollar coming in? Why, we or our sons would kick him into the sea, no matter what the moral or legal aspects of the matter were.

The old victors' system of bringing in slaves and women at the tail of their chariots hasn't changed much. Germany can see that French money is worth only two bits on the dollar, and you can't blame her for refusing to kneel at the boots of the French dragons. How can Germany forget the war when foreign governments dictate her affairs? I am not defending Germany. She was as wrong as a nation can be, but you can't expect her to crawl on her belly for 50 years, right or wrong. A rat will fight in a corner.

America went into the fight, got through with it, and then went home to mind her own business. That's the only way to keep peace.

TORY.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
PERMIT me to thank you for the space and publicity that you gave to the negative side of the St. Louis County bond issue campaign.

Your issue of April 27 was especially fair to our side, and I am sure those reading it will see that we were actuated by what we thought was right.

Your paper in giving publicity to both sides has done its duty to the public, and the undersigned, as chairman of the committee representing those opposed, takes this occasion to thank you.

The Igoe Contest.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AND many others cannot understand why it requires three or four months to correctly count votes for the Igoe contest, when "Miller votes" were counted in "one day" or "one night"—that is, we had read in next day's paper where Miller was elected (day after election). Still it requires four months to recount votes that were counted in one day.

Besides, if the Democrats need money there are thousands who will contribute generously to help pay expenses of contest. If the Democrats have already found that 3500 or more votes should have been for Igoe that were counted for Miller, where is justice? Why not let the public know the facts. This slow law procedure makes it appear to many as another "graft" while many of us know it is not, and we want to see justice to Mr. Igoe.

A Criticism of Criticisms.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I AM astonished at finding that our Central Library authorities are pasting newspaper criticisms in the front inside of some of the newly published books, here and there.

That "the subscriber does not need to read these criticisms" is neither reasonable nor well taken; for the criticisms have been inserted so neatly that it is not until after the subscriber has read them that he finds out that they are not part of the author's own work. That "the need not be influenced by them" is also beside the mark, for we know full well the meaning of the "power" of suggestion and the "prejudice" of association and the influence of these "things" upon the human mind.

Throughout history nearly all great, good and new ideas have been at first unpopular, and this unpopularity, always reflected in the "poor" criticisms of the times of their newness. To think that the books containing the great, good, new thought of our own time, shall, a few years hence when such thought shall have become generally recognized—to think that upon our own library shelves the books containing this "brilliant" shall be found perpetually joined on to the unpopularity of a "dead past," is but to realize that these inserted criticisms are very unwise interpolations which no lover of freedom and liberty of thought can approve.

Mental Segregation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

IT IS the opinion of some that social intercourse is necessary to maintain sanity. It might be with the mob, but thoughtful people prefer to dwell with writers. It is a case of mental segregation.

COLUMBIA, ILL. SIDNEY AVERILL.

HISTORY IN A BUDGET.

Chancellor of the Exchequer Winston Churchill is the best showman in British politics, not even excepting Lloyd George, and he lived up to his reputation in presenting his first budget.

That speech went round the world, not once but three times.

First, his announcement of the restoration of the gold standard. This, to be sure, had been discounted. It had been foreshadowed by events and by the prediction of Churchill's predecessor, Philip Snowden. Nevertheless, the fact lost none of its savor by reason of expectation. England's return to the gold standard is the hard-won triumph of sacrifice through severe taxation. It is a vindication of British statesmanship that refused to be seduced by the wiles of inflation or the illusions of reparations. It is a vindication of British character.

The peak load of taxation is past. Second in importance to the restoration of the gold standard was the announcement of a reduction in the standard income tax.

Surpassing both of those announcements in world-wide interest was the social insurance plan outlined in the budget presentation. According to the Chancellor, "no such scheme covering the whole wage-earning population exists, or ever has existed, in any other country in the world." The plan undertakes to secure the British wage earner and his family against destitution. It undertakes to provide such security, not only against the incapacity of old age, but against the liability of the bread-winner's death or disability.

The practicability of the plan is a point which only experts can pass upon. That the Commons was mystified at first is evidenced in the fact that it took Churchill two hours to answer the questions thrust at him. That he succeeded in his task is shown by the favorable judgment of the Commons when he finally finished—a favorable judgment in which the whole House joined with the exception of the dyed-in-the-wool Tories.

The details need not be considered here. What seems obvious is that the basic principle of the plan is sound. That basic principle is thrift. It is compulsory, universal thrift. Everybody must contribute—employer and employee. This factor of compulsion, Churchill insisted, was indispensable. Without it the plan was not sound. But on that fundamental of compulsory contribution the Baldwin Government is confident that this towering structure of social insurance can be stanchly erected.

This success will not easily be achieved. It will be a long time—50 years, Churchill estimates—before this project will be self-supporting. Pending that consummation it will have to be maintained by subsidy. That contingency has been faced and, for the present, met by the proposal to turn over the unexpended pension money to the insurance fund instead of to the Exchequer.

Tory resentment dubs the scheme Socialism and accuses Churchill of being a Socialist and Premier Baldwin a half-Socialist. Such epithets are, of course, meaningless. The question is, is the plan practicable? That, as we have said, is a matter for insurance specialists to decide. It must be assumed, however, that the Baldwin Cabinet would not have sponsored the idea and submitted it as a policy without consulting with the "best minds" and thoroughly satisfying themselves that the thing can be done.

In this connection it is necessary also to take into account the British genius for governing. More than any other people the British know when to discard faded traditions and blaze new trails. Industrial evolution is bringing new problems which require new governmental processes. If the resources of the State can be utilized in promoting and securing the economic certainty of the people, and if the State alone is equal to the task, what shall the State do? Trust the genius of British statesmanship to find the correct answer.

HE'S NOT A MILLIONAIRE.

W. J. B. has been grossly wronged. "I am not a millionaire," says he, "and never shall be." It seems that his entire fortune, including the profits he has made on Florida real estate, totals something less than $500,000. "There never has been a year since my first nomination," he points out, "in which I could not have made a million had I taken the side of privilege and favoritism." Instead, Mr. Bryan's fortune has been built up slowly through the proceeds of his lectures up to the recent Florida windfall.

Obviously, a man with a half-million is not a millionaire. And W. J. B., with a lifetime of attacks upon predatory interests behind him, suffers when that opprobrious term is applied. For the present we shall refrain from doing him that injustice. Yet money has an uncanny way of growing, and many a paltry fortune of $500,000 has stretched into a million overnight. We hope this disaster won't overtake the seer of Coconut Grove.

Old John Bull is back on the gold standard. British patience works while you sleep, and what the continental countries need is more of the same.

THE WHIPPING POST IN MICHIGAN.

Michigan seems about to introduce a new method of punishing criminals. Both House and Senate have passed a bill to introduce the whipping post as punishment for certain types of crime. The bill is in conference now over an amendment to exclude women from the bill's provisions, this gracious provision having been inserted by the Senate.

Since Michigan finds ordinary incarceration insufficient punishment for transgressors, and looks so favorably upon the cat-o-nine-tails, it might not be amiss to mention a few other devices. When the whipping post becomes a commonplace, when criminals' backs become leathery under the throng, Michigan might try an invention called the thumb screw or another called the rack.

Both the thumb screw and the rack, as Michigan legislators will find if they take time to look into this matter, have a long and interesting history. They are very superior forms of punishment, and especially useful in dragging confessions from innocent and guilty alike.

Now that the air is full of prison reform, it is most heartening to find our sister Commonwealth doing this pioneer work in protecting society from the brutes which infest it. It is now in a class with Delaware, as being the only other State which knows how to deal with criminal offenses. Page Torquemada, Cortez, Herod and the Iroquois Indians!

Recruits in city jobs are to be kept a year on probation. To establish their qualities as workers or as Republicans?

URBAN ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Fall though it did to provide for good roads, the late lamented bond campaign and election in St. Louis County certainly demonstrated clearly one thing—the growing community of interest that sweeps both ways across the arbitrary political boundary between St. Louis and the county.

The only organized opposition to the bonds was predicated on the assertion that the bonds would be a deterrent to expansion of the city limits and the accompanying extension of metropolitan benefits to the thickly populated areas of the county. The organized activity for the bonds replied that annexation was not an issue, but a study of the precinct returns would indicate that this reply was a vain argument.

Not more than one-third of the county's 123 precincts are rural now; not more than about 4000 of the votes cast in Tuesday's special election were polled in farming districts; an increasingly large part of the county's area is devoted to the homes of people whose livelihood is in the city; fully 8500 of the votes on Tuesday were cast in the 13 largest communities and the balance were from districts developing into suburbs.

Gore and Lockwood, Webster Groves, and Kirkwood and Argonne, Kirkwood, are now but outlying centers of the Greater St. Louis, like Grand and Gravois, or Union and St. Louis. Perhaps that boundary, the city limits of 1878, is partly to blame; on its east is a city with a modern Charter, a Bureau of Municipal Research and a will to improve itself to the tune of $87,572,500; to the west is a kindred area that is largely urban or semurban, but which is governed by the antiquated system of a County Court, which is not a court at all but a group of three political office holders under the thumb of a domineering machine. The people's verdict at the polls was a rebuke to the machine, even if the road bonds were supported by many interests and individuals who were free of the octopus.

Again, the overwhelming defeat of the proposal to issue $715,000 in bonds for a courthouse and jail admittedly was due to the feeling that city expansion was a big coming issue, and might obviate new county buildings. Now let the authorities proceed with the appointment of the Board of Freeholders to consider expansion of the city limits.

WHEN CHURCHILL TOOK A DRINK.

Americans read with a shudder that Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, drank several glasses of whisky and soda during his great speech in the House of Commons on the budget. They were served from the House's bar and Churchill joked about contributing to the revenue which he was discussing. The members laughed at the joke.

What a contrast between monarchical England and republican America! A drink of liquor is a pleasant, accepted custom there, a crime here. In America Churchill would have had to drink from a pocket flask and would be subject to arrest, fine and imprisonment. We have forgotten the meaning and practice of individual liberty, for which our fathers fought and which they tried to safeguard in the Constitution.

"Tries to swallow razor blades to kill himself." Perhaps he had tried every other method of disposing of the pesky things.

KANSAS CITY'S RAILROAD.

Kansas City looks with no favoring glance on the course of events which seem to be drawing the Kansas City Southern Railroad into closer connection with St. Louis lines. The latest of these events is the election of Chairman Lore of the Kansas City Southern, and of bankers interested in that road, to the Executive Committee of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

St. Louis can understand, and sympathize with, Kansas City's feelings in this matter. The business interests of this city would not care to see the Frisco or the M. & K. T. absorbed by a Chicago system, such as the Burlington or the Northwestern. And the K. C. S. is in a peculiar degree Kansas City's own railroad. The dynamic Stilwell built it straight south, "as the crow flies," near the west boundary lines of Missouri and Arkansas and to the Gulf. Though Port Arthur did not quite become another Galveston, the Beaumont oil field proved a traffic builder and the venture was successful to a degree which encouraged its planner to another undertaking on an international scale. But the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient is today only the rusty remnant of a dream, and Kansas City clings all the more fondly to the K. C. S., which has qualified as a going concern. So far as the matter of its absorption depends on the Interstate Commerce Commission, Kansas City can make a strong fight; so far as it is in the hands of Eastern bankers, no great solicitude for the feelings of communities is to be expected.

"Beggars Keep Automobile." Apparently wishes are keeping up with the times.

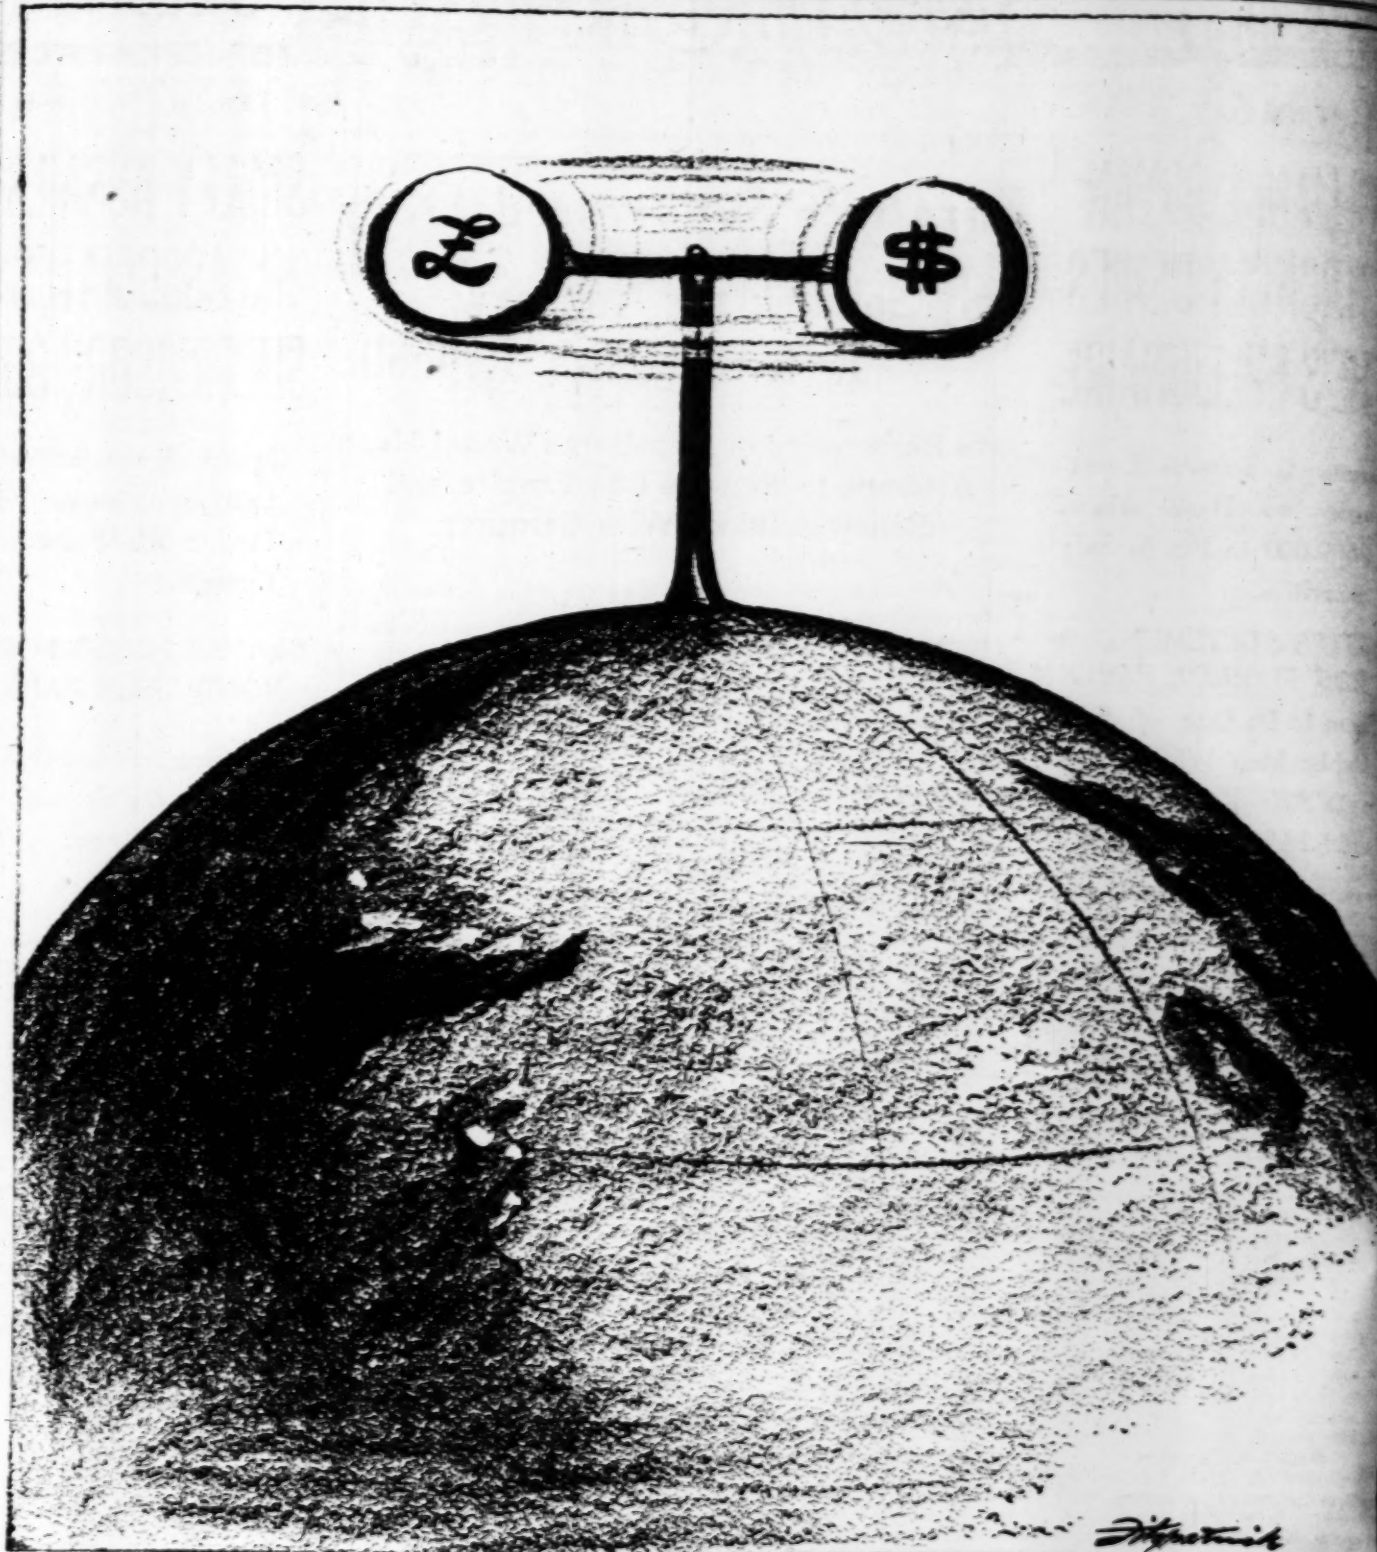

A DECLINING DEMOCRACY.

Whittier's barefoot boy has had his day. Instead of blessings, he gets suspended from school. At least, that happened at West Palm Beach, when high school lads sent shoes and holoproof to join the discarded carters. There is no place in that preparatory school for the unshod. That portion of this land of the free isn't as free as it was when father was a boy, and stone bruises were the hall mark of his liberty from the cramping product of the cobbler.

Thus has the land fallen on effete days. The father of the large family, who used to save something in warm weather, must now meet the shoe bills in summer as in winter, as well as providing spare tires. The change may be a boon to the shoe industry, but it is taking something from the hardihood of the men of tomorrow.

Of course, the West Palm Beach educators were suppressing a fad, but it is a little difficult still to comprehend their line of reasoning. In an era when knees are no novelty, a bare foot is not so bad, and it is the head, rather than the feet that should interest the pedagogues. Our history glorifies the stubbed wended their way through the dirt and on up into the high places. But now, it seems, the freedom of the feet must join other lost liberties. From the fringe of Florida's resort is likely to come a law, as there is even now a rule, that shoes must be worn.

Germany said with ballots what it once tried to say with bullets.

In Mr. Rockefeller's daily schedule we find these items:

8:30-8:45—Plays game of numbers.
9-9:15—Plays game of numbers, etc.

That tells the story of the difference between Mr. Rockefeller and the rest of us. We play all sorts of games, but how many of us give some part of every day playing numbers? How many of us make numbers our dominant thought daily? Mr. Rockefeller does. He has always done so. The consequence is that we think of him in numbers, and he has expressed his life in them. The rest of us think of them only when we are compelled to do so. To him they are a game; to us a painful subject. Nuff sed.

"Drunk" Your collection of synonyms for "drunk" is interesting, but neither your first nor your second list contains the sailor's term, "half seas over," which is a more advanced state of intoxication than "more sail than ballast" or "three sheets in the wind."

While on the subject of synonyms, it is interesting to note that there are more synonyms in English for the word "dunce" than for any other word. There are 58 of them, the same being as follows: Simpleton, fool, dolt, ignoramus, witling, wussler, blockhead, block, numskull, dullard, thickhead, thickskull, dunderhead, dunderhead, clodpoll, clodpole, beetle-head, bull-head, dull-head, addle-head, logger-head, chuckle-head, jolt-head, lack-brain, shallow-brain, mooncalf, jackwit, halfwit, oaf, changeling, boob, noodle, spooney, tony, nincompoop, ninny, ninnyhammer, nonny, gaby, flat, sawney, driveller, noddy, natural, innocent, lout, stick, ass, jackass, donkey, owl, goose, coat, loon, calf, noncompos, stupid fellow and silly fellow.

Mr. A high-powered ad of the May convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World contains the following copy, under the heading "Contact," appropriately illustrated with a spark plug in an engine.

"Mind meets mind—and profit-bringing facts and ideas flow—and with the ideas come another great thing—encouragement, inspiration—the will to do."

In such an essentially competitive "game" as advertising, this last must mean "the will to do others"—the modern version of an ancient injunction beginning, "Do unto others."

12 MODERN TRAGEDIES.

(Caruthersville, Mo., Democrat.)

A man struck a match to see if the gas-line tank in his auto was empty. It wasn't.

A man patted a strange bulldog on the head to see if the critter was affectionate. He wasn't.

A man speeded up to see if he could beat the train to the crossing. He couldn't.

A man undertook to pass two speeding cars on the public highway. He didn't.

A man cut his advertising to see if he couldn't save money. He's broke.

A man touched a trolley wire to see if it was charged. It wasn't.

A boy blew in his 22 rifle barrel to see if it was unloaded. It wasn't.

A girl turned hand to get a thrill. She got it from an automobile.

A jay walker tried to beat the flogger across the "go" signal. He'll never walk again.

A guy took a drink from a strange bottle to see if it had a kick. He's been blind since.

A sheik kissed a strange girl to see if she would stand for it. She would not.

A country boob blew out the gas so he could sleep. He's still sleeping.

In the seventh century, Omar declared that the Koran contained all that man should know and destroyed the great library of Alexandria, and used the books as fuel in the public baths. At that, he had nothing on some of our Southern States' "Mind in the Making" or Darwin's "The Origin of Species" to be used as text-books.

Sir: What has become of the movement to put education under the control of the Federal Government? A year ago its followers were active. Now they are silent.

Is it possible that they have seen the light? Perhaps they have noted the fact that when the Federal Government takes control of anything belonging primarily to the people that the people immediately lose interest in that thing. Examples are too numerous to mention.

These sentences, like Shakespeare's "time," are "out of joint." So Federal control of education would be. PAULONIS.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

GERMANY NO LONGER PROSTRATE.

From the New York World.

THE election of Hindenburg in Germany is the return of Callaure in France is best understood as another sign of the decay of what may be called the Versailles system. The essence of that system was the attempt to establish an artificially strong France dominant over an unacceptably weak Germany.

The Versailles system could not endure. France could not long hold the position to which she had been raised by the allied allies; Germany could not be kept as prostrate by France alone as she was when Foch, backed by Pershing and Haig, armed her. The authors of the peace reached themselves. They wrote a treaty which denies the realities of Europe and defies all human experience. The history of the last five and a half years has demonstrated the failure.

The events of the last fortnight, with the return of both Callaure and Hindenburg, are an unusually dramatic recognition of facts that have slowly and undramatically been unfolding themselves these last five years. Callaure is the symbol of French denunciation of continental mastery; Hindenburg is the symbol of German refusal to accept a permanent position of inferiority in Europe. In both France and Germany the popular forces arraigned against the Versailles system are strong enough to have defied in the most spectacular manner possible the whole spirit of that settlement.

This does not mean that the treaty is to be scrapped suddenly. It does mean, we may be certain, that just as America abandoned it entirely and Great Britain abandoned it in substance, so now France and Germany both are recognizing that as originally conceived it is unworkable. The treaty remains the formal law of Europe. But in the execution of the treaty and its inevitable revision we have entered a new era. France and Germany confront each other alone not as a master to vassal, but as something like their true relative strength.

The tranquility of Europe will depend upon the wisdom with which the treaty is accepted. If France has the grace to acknowledge Germany's position as a nation of 60,000,000 in the heart of Europe, if the German nationalists have the sense to exploit their very slender victory, then the outcome might be far better than the present. Hindenburg suggests. It is useless to prophesy. The one clear certainty which must be the premise of all sound thinking about Europe is that Germany cannot any longer be treated as the prostrate loser nor France as the dictator. That chapter in European affairs is played out.

THE TACNA-ARICA DECISION.

From the Dallas News.

THE President's judgment did no more than decree that the plebiscite should be held and the result of it accepted as definitive of title. It may be true, as the Peruvians claim, that Chile will have the unfair advantage in this appeal to public sentiment because of its long possession of the territory in dispute, but that fact can hardly be regarded by the disinterested as a valid reason why the will of the majority should not be ascertained and the result accepted as a final settlement of the ancient controversy.

COL. W. H. HEUER, 82.

DEAD IN THE WEST

Former St. Louisan and Army Engineer, Succumbed in San Francisco.

Col. William H. Heuer, 82 years old, a former St. Louisan and an army engineer for about 45 years, died Tuesday night at his home in San Francisco of heart disease, after an illness of about six months. The funeral was today, with burial in San Francisco.

Col. Heuer had been engaged in business as a consulting engineer in California since he was retired from the regular army in 1907, with the exception of about two years he spent during the World War in charge of military defenses along the Pacific Coast and at Honolulu, Hawaii. He volunteered his services shortly after the United States entered the World War and was given the assignment. He had been active until he became ill last fall.

Born and reared in St. Louis, Col. Heuer received an appointment to West Point in 1861 and four years later was commissioned a First Lieutenant in the Engineers Corps.

During his service in the army he assisted in some of the largest engineering projects attempted by the Government. He worked on the Hell Gate project from 1872 to 1875, in deepening the channel and reducing the current of the East River, and from 1878 to 1886 he served as Government Inspector of the Jetties at the mouth of the Mississippi River.

Col. Heuer paid a visit to relatives here in 1922, at which time he predicted an increase in the use of the Mississippi as a transportation medium.

St. Louis relatives surviving him are a sister, Miss Mary Heuer, of 204 Skinker road; three nephews, Harry D. Heuer, assistant auditor of the Terminal Railway Association, of 1666 Cabanne avenue; Dr. P. J. Heuer, 194 Skinker road; Dr. Scott Heuer, 1515 Cabanne, and niece, Miss Elizabeth Heuer, of 204 Skinker, who was with him at the time of his death. He was a brother of the late Capt. Phil J. Heuer, secretary of the Mullanphy Hospital and connected with the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

BLINDNESS PREVENTION MEDAL

Award to Be Made Yearly for Most Meritorious Service.

An employment fund, the interest of which will provide a medal to be presented annually to the individual who makes the greatest contribution to the prevention of blindness, has been established by Leslie Dana of Brentmoor Park, retiring president of the Missouri Commission for the Blind.

Nominations for the medal, the design of which is being planned by a committee of artists to be made through the Missouri Commission for the Blind, and the winner will be selected by the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, of which Chief Justice Taft is chairman. This year it is hoped that the award will be decided before May 20 or 21, tentative dates on which it is planned the medal will be presented at a public meeting held in St. Louis.

Dr. P. Park Lewis of Buffalo is expected to deliver the speech of presentation. Dr. Edward Jackson of Denver will be another speaker.

NEW C. & A. TRAIN TO CHICAGO

Will Leave St. Louis at 3 P. M. and Arrive at Chicago at 10 P. M.

The Chicago & Alton Railroad will inaugurate a new fast train between Chicago and St. Louis on Sunday afternoon. The train will leave Union Station at 3 p. m., arriving at Chicago at 10:30 p. m. and will be the first mid-afternoon train between the two cities. The equipment will consist of observation and parlor cars, diner, reclining chair cars and day coaches. With the addition of this train, the Chicago & Alton will have six fast passenger trains from St. Louis to Chicago.

WORLD EAGER FOR RELIGIOUS TRUTH SAYS DR. J. J. WALSH

Former Dean of Fordham University Speaks at St. Louis U. on Attitude of Canon Doyle.

Dr. J. J. Walsh, writer and former dean of Fordham University Medical School, addressed the St. Louis University faculty and students of Theology, Philosophy and Science last night at the University. The subject of his talk concerned spiritualism and the attitude of Canon Doyle was discussed. "The world today is hungrier than ever for religious truth," he said, "but does not want a religion that leaves to them a responsibility of any sort." He cited many instances of supposedly supernatural origin, and offered the explanation that many people will probably believe in their spiritual beliefs. Dr. Walsh said that Msgr. Barry, a cousin of Canon Doyle, is authority for the statement that the noted writer of detective tales and exponent of spiritualism is "really serious and sincere."

PATRICK J. O'BRIEN, FOR 44 YEARS WITH WABASH, DIES
Inspector of Transportation Succumbs to Pneumonia Poisoning at Age of 58.

Patrick J. O'Brien, inspector of transportation of the Wabash Railroad, died yesterday at Mullinugh Hospital, following a seven weeks' illness from pneumonia poisoning. He was 58 years old and resided at 2558 Crittenden avenue.

O'Brien was an employee of the railroad 44 years. He had served as inspector of transportation for 10 years.

In 1902 O'Brien was named Commissioner for the World's Fair to Ireland by David R. Francis. He retained his position with the railroad in making the trip to Ireland.

Surviving him are his widow, Grace, and three sons, Alvie, William and Joseph, all of St. Louis. The funeral will be Friday morning from the residence to St. Margaret's Church. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery.

Arts and Medical School Teams to Discuss Philippine Independence.

Tonight, at the St. Louis University administration building, the Arts debating team will meet the St. Louis University Medical School team in the debate: "Resolved, that the United States should grant the Philippines absolute independence at the next session of Congress."

Grell, Broghammer and McGill of the Medical School will debate the affirmative, and Siler, Stampfl and Bear of the Arts department will debate the negative.

The debate will decide the possession of the silver loving cup donated by the St. Louis University Convocation, the organization governing campus activities.

NEWSPAPERS ARE AID TO HELPFUL RACE RELATIONS

Director of Community Council Department Says College Faculty and Students Are Another Factor.

Conscientious newspapers of the country have done and are doing more to foster the proper spirit between races than any other one agency, according to a report on the work of the Race Relations Department of the St. Louis Community Council submitted by Miss Bertha Howell, assistant director of the organization.

Students and faculty members in colleges and universities are given as the second greatest factor in bettering interracial relations, with the added explanation that students appear more eager to bring about a closer relationship between the races than were their parents. Other factors, making for a better understanding were mentioned as interchange of competent instructors in educational institutions and interracial conferences.

The question of negro membership in labor unions which was discussed at the National Interracial Conference in Cincinnati recently, was declared to be one of the biggest problems in personnel management of modern industry.

HOSPITAL, GIFT OF U. S. WOMEN
Ambassador Herrick Makes Formal Presentation of $300,000 in Contribution for Children.

By the Associated Press.

RHEIMS, France, April 30.—The city of Rheims today entered into possession of a fully equipped hospital for children, the gift of the women of America.

The building, the first of a group of hospitals planned for construction just outside the city, cost $300,000, and there is an endowment fund of $600,000, insuring its maintenance as a permanent record of the American women's desire to benefit Rheims and keep alive the memory of the Americans who fell on French soil.

The American Ambassador, Myron T. Herrick, in handing over the building to the Mayor, termed the hospital "a manifestation of the pride which the American women feel in the sublime role played by their French sisters throughout the war."

AMATEUR FLOWER SHOW WEEK
Earlier Than First Planned

Dates Advanced to May 16 and 17 Because of Unseasonably Warm Weather of Last Week.

The date of the sixth free Amateur Flower Show to be held at Shaw's Garden, originally set for May 23 and 24, has been advanced to May 16 and 17, A. E. Brooker, president of the Garden Club, announced today.

It was decided to advance the date, Brooker explained, because the unseasonably warm weather last week caused flowers to bloom earlier than members of the club expected. The club desires to hold the show when flowers are in the fullest bloom, and Brooker said indications now are that the fullest bloom will be about May 16 and 17.

Those intending to enter exhibits of flowers, shrubbery, window boxes, miniature gardens and of garden sculpture in the show, must speed up their plans. Brooker pointed out, now that the date of the show has been moved up. There is no charge entering exhibits in the competition for the various cash prizes, ribbons and trophies, as everything, even admission to the show, is free.

First College Class At MARYVILLE GETS DIPLOMA
Archbishop Glennon and Mother Superior Award Scholastic Honors to Five Graduates.

Maryville College of the Sacred Heart, Meramec street and Nebraska avenue, yesterday graduated its first college class. Archbishop Glennon and the mother superior bestowed the scholastic honors of the bachelor of arts on five graduates.

The graduates are Misses Martin Bascom, Pauline Grindon and Virginia Hardy of St. Louis; Miss Lucy Lamy of Sedalia and Miss Marynel Neilson of San Antonio, Tex. Two years ago the school advanced to a four-year course, having been previously a junior college. Formerly commencement exercises were private, but yesterday parents and friends attended.

Archbishop Glennon and Congressman Harry B. Hawes spoke. Hawes defined woman's greatest problem as the creation of an influence for good in the home, adding that "happiness lies in contentment, and contentment can only be had as the result of making others happy."

THOUSANDS GREET WALES AT CAPE TOWN

Prince Praises South African Scenery and Suggests City for Health Resort.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 26.—The Prince of Wales arrived here today on the Battle Cruiser Repulse for his visit to South Africa.

Table Bay was shrouded in a dense fog when a naval escort sailed out to meet the Repulse. At 7:30 a. m. the thousands gathered on the shore heard the guns of the escort booming the royal salute, and shortly afterward the Repulse, escorted by the South African squadron, entered the harbor amid tremendous cheering. As the Repulse came to anchor the fog lifted, giving the prospect of a fine day.

The royal visitor landed at 11 a. m. and drove through miles of cheering crowds to the grand parade, where royal addresses were presented.

Despite his early retirement last night, the Prince found time to participate in the concert on the Repulse concluding the social side of the life on board during the southward voyage through the Atlantic.

The climax was reached in a sketch entitled "Crosswords," in which Wales appeared in feminine garb with a golden wig. When the curtain of the small stage rose, many in the ship's company did not recognize the attractive "lady" seated in a corner demurely viewing the points of "her" small slippers, and there were gasps when "she" raised "her" head, disclosing the smiling countenance of his royal highness.

Numerous Addresses Presented. The principal function in the welcome to the Prince here was the civic meeting in the large open space fronting the city hall, which was packed to its limits. The police had difficulty in restraining the crowds.

The arrival of the Prince was signalled by a tremendous outburst of cheering. He was greeted by the Mayor and the city councillors, after which numerous addresses were presented, the Prince shaking hands with all who made the presentations and making appropriate replies.

The Mayor in his address assured the Prince a loyal reception throughout the country, remarking that the spontaneous enthusiasm that had greeted his visits to the Dominion had proved to the world that he lived in the hearts of British subjects.

The Mayor recalled the happy memories of the visit of the Prince of Wales' father to Cape Town and assured him the people would watch his progress throughout South Africa with the keenest interest. "From this historic spot where the Gibraltar of the South keeps watch and ward over the great highway of the sea for all who come and go."

Replying, the Prince expressed his satisfaction with the warm reception given him and spoke feelingly of Cape Town's beauty.

The Prince praised the South African scenery and voiced the idea of the development of Cape Town as a health resort for the whole world. His remarks roused the large audience to intense enthusiasm. The speech was broadcast over the whole union.

Children Sing for Him. After the addresses Wales proceeded to the stands in Government avenue, where the school children welcomed him by singing "God Save the Prince of Wales."

As his highness drove through the city the route was packed with wildly cheering crowds, who gave the visitor the heartiest of welcomes. A feature of his escort which interested the Prince was a body of South African Mounted Rifles, on bay horses. Every window and balcony along the line was crowded and there was a continuous roar of cheers.

Street Car.

William Kempin, 47 years old, of 2084 Kosuth avenue, went riding last evening on a motor cycle driven by his son, Otto, 29. A collision with an automobile ended their ride, and both were taken to city hospital, where the father died at 7:15 a. m. today.

The collision occurred at Salisbury street and North Florissant avenue at 6:15 o'clock, the automobile being driven by Gustave Schmidt, 2122 L street, Granite City, who escaped injury. The tandem cycle overturned on its riders. The son suffered cuts and bruises, and the father a fractured skull and right leg, the leg being amputated at the hospital.

Otto Kempin and Schmidt were held under bond for the inquest. Kempin's death was the fifty-fifth motor vehicle fatality this year, as compared with 47 for the same period in 1934.

Miss Clara Krause, 16 years old of 1821 Knapp street, was critically injured at 1:40 p. m. today when she was knocked down by a westbound automobile while crossing from the north of Olive street midway between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

Traffic Officer Wagner, on duty at Eleventh and Olive streets, was attracted by her screams and carried her from the street in a semi-conscious condition. The driver of the car, Edward Leach, of 1603 Blaine avenue, took her to the City Hospital, where the extent of her injuries has not yet been determined, although she is believed to have suffered a fractured skull. Leach, who was arrested, said she stepped into the street in front of his machine and he did not have time to stop.

Henry Brockman, 80 years old, of the Erie House, Fourth street and Clark avenue, was received at city hospital last night suffering from a fractured left shoulder and internal injuries. He told police he was struck by a sedan at Fourth and Walnut streets at noon, and that the driver took him to a physician at Fifteenth street and Cass avenue. Dr. Brockman, who said he was not seriously injured, was taken to the hospital.

Four men were arrested last night after which they turned on the west of N. 10th street. The men were charged with the robbery of a man who was carrying a suitcase. The man was taken to the hospital and is now recovering.

DETROIT, Mich., April 30.—
First hearing upon charges that Detroit city employees have been guilty of grafting will be heard
May 8, Judge Harry B. Keidan decided yesterday, when three of the men named in the one-man grand jury report were arraigned before him. The men were Werner Helm-boldt, John J. Knight and George H. Garner, each a former head of a city department. The men surrendered to Robert H. Toms, prosecutor, were arraigned and released on $1000 bail.As a result of the dismissal of Edward G. Hackel, Commissioner of Parks and Boulevards, after a 10-minute interview yesterday, employee W. Busch, for 20 years an employee of the department, was placed in charge. Hackel had intimated he would fight dismissal, and refused to resign at the suggestion of Mayor Smith. Following his dismissal, Hackel gave out a statement, denying the charges made against him, and charged he had been hampered in his duties as a commissioner.Two additional warrants for minor city officials have been issued, one charging Lewis F. Ray, cashier in the Department of Public Works, with selling topographical maps, and the other charging L. S.

to Detection of Such Violations.Two hundred arrests were made by the police yesterday and last night in a continuation of the department's drive against gambling, liquor, and the known hangouts of "redhots."In conjunction with the drive it was announced yesterday that Detective Sergt. Coakley, formerly with Sergt. Kelly on the bank squad, would be put in charge of a liquor squad and detailed solely to the detection of dry law violations.Two detectives who visited the saloon of William H. Bryant at 5100 Easton avenue yesterday, found that Bryant was out and decided to wait for him. Finally they reported, they sighted Bryant coming east on Easton. He stopped at a gangway at 5110 Easton, the detectives reported, and taking a bottle from his pocket, put it in the gangway behind the gate. Bryant was arrested. Investigation showed the bottle was full of whisky.Chinese Laundry Raided.
Sam Long, Chinese laundryman, was arrested in his establishment at 2325 Market street at 3 p. m. yesterday. Policemen who had smelt alcohol from the street came in and asked Long where the smell came from. According to their report, Long invited them to lookover the place. In the basement they found ten gallons of whisky mash in a copper boiler over a lighted gas stove. In Long's living quarters they found 90 gallons of mash. He was arrested.Joseph Galeite and Joseph Porter, proprietors of a saloon at 501 North Taylor avenue, were arrested yesterday afternoon after a customer had told a story of buying liquor which was reminiscent of the old pre-Volstead days when moonshiners left their whisky in tree stumps for purchasers.The customer, Eugene Fox, 46, 4778 Spaulding avenue, was arrested in the saloon with a pint of liquor in his pocket. He said he had come into the saloon, asked for a pint of whisky and laying a $1 bill on the table before Galeite and Porter had gone to the washroom.
When he returned the bottle was waiting for him on the table and the bill was gone. Fox, who was unable to tell which of the proprietors had sold the whisky, was arrested.Liquor Found in Shed.

South Broadway, and a few minutes later took Joseph Morelli in his saloon at 2900 South Broadway.
Beer and whisky were seized in both raids and a known "redhot" was taken in Morelli's place.Detectives who entered the saloon of Adam Kurtisch at 4101W
Lee avenue yesterday followed his 16-year-old son, William, who was just starting upstairs with an approval of bottles. On a back porch upstairs they found 60 bottles of beer. Eleven gallons of whisky also was seized and Adam Kurtisch was arrested.On an anonymous tip that beer was being sold the police yesterday afternoon entered a residence at 2905 Texas avenue. During the evening Matthew J. Bayer, came to the station to ask what the police were doing in his home. They informed him they had seized 22

laney of Paterson, N. J., to a bill of exceptions upon which he will base an appeal to the Supreme Court from a sentence of six months in jail recently imposed by Judge Delaney in connection with a demonstration in front of the Paterson city hall during a silk strike. The bill was forwarded to the Supreme Court at Trenton.
Seven other defendants fined $50
by Judge Delaney when he sen-

New Way for Health

Shattered People to Take Cod Liver Oil

If You Want Strength, Vigor, Energy and Vibrant Health Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 Days—Full of Vitamins.

Money Back if You Aren't Delighted With the Great Help They Give You—60 Tablets—60 Cents

Doctors and chemists agree that there is nothing in the world that contains just the right kind of vitamins needed to restore health and strength to weak, exhausted frail men, women and children as Cod Liver Oil.

It is such a wonderful body builder that physicians prescribe it for rickets in children, because it builds bone as well as flesh and even helps the teeth.

But the average stomach rebels against cod liver oil; it upsets digestion and is so nauseating that few people can take the vile stuff.

So hundreds of thousands of nervous, run-down folks who are anxious to again have the sparkle of superb health show in their eyes are turning to McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets which have such a deserved reputation that you can buy them in any real drug store in North and South America.

No matter what your age, if you feel that you need something to build you up—put your faith in McCoy's.

POLICE BOARD

PLANS TO TAKE

JOY OUT OF CRIME

Commissioner Kortjohn Says That Is the Purpose of Drive Against Gambling.

"Fronting" and gambling were discussed by Police Commissioner Henry Kortjohn Jr. in an address before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

"It is necessary for the Police Board to stop 'fronting' by politicians and friends," he said. "We found on occasions in the past that a man would be arrested, say, for a traffic offense, and would give bond. Then a friend of his would communicate with the board and say, 'This man injured no one and used no unseemly language—let him off.'"

"The officer who made the arrest would be called into the station and asked, 'Would you feel aggrieved, officer, if this man is not prosecuted?' The officer, of course, would say, 'Oh, no, of course not,' especially if he was talking to a member of the board or a friend of it.

"But what would that officer think as he left the station? He would wonder next time he made an arrest whose toes he was stepping on. He would be demoralized. And that is why we have concluded to stop 'fronting' and let any man arrested make his explanation to the judge."

"Vice Has Become a Business."

In reply to criticism of the new board's campaign against all forms of gambling, Kortjohn said: "Vice and wrongdoing have been capitalized into a business. We have discovered that most crime is committed by young people. It is remarkable how often young men steal and kill. When they steal their first dollar it is to spend the money. They spend it in gambling and by indulging their women. The entire scheme of crime is composed of many elements, including pleasures, and one of the pleasures is gambling. We intend to eliminate the pleasures of criminals in St. Louis, and it is necessary in order to reduce crime to stop gambling. That is our excuse for getting after gambling."

Kortjohn gave assurance, however, that he and other members will not be "crusaders or raiders," but will leave that to policemen. In conclusion, he said the board has instructed policemen to be gentlemen to reputable people and to run criminals out of town to "make a clean city out of St. Louis."

Advocated Police Pension.

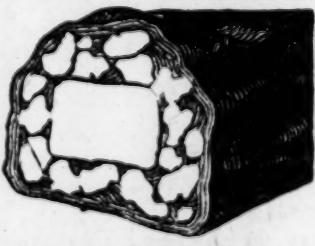

Commissioner Arthur J. Freund advocated pensions for veteran policemen and an increase in the membership of the force. The board's action in withdrawing police guards from banks and payrolls was made necessary by lack of men on beats, he said, stating that in the month of March police spent 7033 hours in guarding payrolls.

Dr. Frank L. Mazoon, commissioner, spoke for Allen C. Orrick, president of the board, who was absent because of illness, and observed that the board without Orrick was "like Hamlet without the Dane." He discussed traffic, saying it was a problem for scientists as well as police.

Shepard Barclay, former State Supreme Court Judge, and Frederick Dunlap, secretary of the Missouri Forestry Association, were other speakers. Dunlap advocating reforestation and Barclay commending the diamond jubilee celebration of St. Louis turners next month. In regard to the police department, Barclay said he agreed with W. S. Gilbert that "A policeman's lot is not a happy one."

Amputation Seized on Rhine.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, April 29.—A dispatch to the Nation Reige from Aix-La-Chapelle says members of the international commission controlling navigation on the Rhine seized 17 tons of military cartridges and a quantity of incendiary and illuminating bombs aboard a vessel from Holland. The Germans responsible for the vessel's cargo explained that they knew nothing about the shipment, which they had thought was iron ore.

Half the world is half asleep

You cannot stay the hand of time. But time can steal youth gracefully, and leave a person still attractive. It is the vicious work of constipation that robs a sufferer of beauty, personality, and even of an interest in his life itself. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure and safe relief from this disease.

"I'm sorry..but I'm just dead tired"

THERE'S tragedy. Often invited. Seldom able to go. She is out of the things she loves. Day after day that tired, listless feeling forces her into an exile she loathes. Yet there is pleasant, safe, permanent relief from her trouble—for it is constipation which is sapping her strength.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings certain relief from this dread disease. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN travels through the system without changing its fiber. Its bulk sweeps the intestine clean, driving out the poisons of constipation, stimulating the flow of digestive juices. It induces the system to act as nature intended. How different from the action of irritating, habit-forming pills and drugs, which become less than useless unless the dose is increased.

Eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily with milk or cream, sprinkled over cereals, or cooked with cereals; in soups, or made into the many recipes given on the package. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to bring relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. In chronic cases, eat ALL-BRAN with every meal. Delicious with fruits, baked apple, etc.

KNOW THE TRUTH ABOUT BRAN

To be effective, bran fiber must go through the various digestive processes without submitting to any of them. It must pass through the entire alimentary tract without its form being changed.

What happens when a bran food is eaten? After the saliva has acted upon it, it passes through the stomach and into the intestine, where every part which is not fiber is absorbed.

In ALL-BRAN the quantity of fiber is so great that it furnishes bulk enough to prevent and relieve constipation.

In a part-bran food, the quantity of fiber is so small that there is only a puny amount to do a herculean task.

ALL-BRAN brings sure results. Demand it.

Warning! Be sure to get Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can, at best, be but partially effective.

Kellogg's is the original and only ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it. Accept no other. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it.

4 out of 5 are marked

There's no way to get around it. Dental statistics show that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are victims of Pyorrhea. Do you want to avoid this dread disease?

Prevent tooth decay below the gum-line

As the soil nourishes the tree roots, the gums nourish the teeth. And as the tree decays if you bare the roots, so do the teeth decay when gum shrinkage starts in.

This condition—one of the first stages of Pyorrhea—is very common and something that ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to prevent. If not checked promptly it will lead to loss of teeth and serious organic diseases.

Forhan's Checkmates Pyorrhea

If used in time and used consistently twice a day, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. It will preserve the gums in their pink, normal, healthy condition, safeguard your health and keep your mouth clean, fresh and wholesome.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

$3265 IN CASH AND GEMS STOLEN
IN FIVE HOLDUPS
Arthur W. Schaid, Broker, Robbed of Diamonds Valued at $2000 and $500 in Money in Rear of Home.

THREE MEN HELD UP IN THEIR SHOE STORE
Two Highwaymen Obtain $707 in Money and Jewelry From the Schoenfeld and Weneker Firm.

Five holdups, in which the robbers obtained a total of $3265 in money and jewelry, one burglary and two robberies by purse snatchers were among the criminal activities reported to the police yesterday and last night. The previous night was characterized by the absence of crime, only one holdup being reported.

The holdup yielding the largest amount of loot was that of Arthur W. Schaid, a broker residing at 4167A Botanical avenue who was robbed of diamonds valued at $2000 and $500 in money. He was accosted at 6:10 p. m. by three masked men as he drove into a garage in the rear of his home to put away his automobile upon his return from his office at 6225 Easton avenue.

While one highwayman kept him "covered" with a revolver, the others cut off his necktie containing a diamond stud valued at $1200, and took an $800 diamond ring from his finger and $800 in money from his pockets. The men escaped in an automobile which had been parked in an alley nearby.

Shoe Store Robbed.
Two men, with handkerchiefs over their faces, obtained $707 in money and jewelry in a holdup of the Schoenfeld & Weneker Shoe Store, 1735 South Thirty-ninth street, at 7:35 p. m.
The three proprietors, Joseph Schoenfeld and Louis and Alex Weneker were kept under guard by one of the men while the other took $147 from the cash register; $35 from Louis and a $350 diamond ring, a $100 watch and a fob valued at $75 from Schoenfeld. Alex Weneker was not searched. The robbers escaped in an automobile.

Two armed young men, who escaped on foot, held up Cyril R. Melton, night manager of the Puritan gasoline filling station, Delmar boulevard and Newstead avenue, at 7:40 p. m. and robbed the cash register of $30. Melton, who resides at 3434 Morgan street, said the men drew revolvers after inquiring for road maps.

Carl Busch, 46 years old, of 1437 Blair avenue, was held up by two armed men in front of 1519 Blair avenue at 9:30 last night and robbed of $14, a flashlight and keys of his automobile.

Beaten and Robbed of $14.
Pete Bartus, 42, of 1414 High street, suffered a possible fracture of the skull and lacerations of the scalp at 9:45 p. m. when he was beaten by two highwaymen who held him up on Pine street between Fourth street and Broadway, robbing him of $14. He walked to the Central District Police Station and reported the occurrence but was unable to give a coherent account of the attack. He was taken to the city hospital for treatment.

Miss Mary A. Newman, of 313 North Jefferson avenue, was walking north on Jefferson near Franklin avenue at 9:10 p. m. when a negro snatched her purse containing $2, a pen and cards, and escaped.

Fifteen minutes later Miss Sarah Herman, 18, of 1116 Dayton street, was walking with her sister, Anna, on Franklin avenue, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, when a negro answering the same description seized her handbag containing $5 cents.

MAXWELL HOUSE COFFEE
"Good to the last drop" TODAY—America's largest selling, high grade coffee
A BANQUET or a holiday dinner at the old Maxwell House was an event of interest not only to Nashville but to the whole South. The newspapers, years ago, used to print the menus in full. The wonderful food at the Maxwell House—and particularly its coffee—was celebrated throughout the old South. A special blend of fine coffees was served there, so rich and mellow that the most critical families everywhere have wanted it for their own use. Today this same rich-bodied coffee, blended and roasted in just the same way, is on sale in sealed tins at all better grocery stores. Your own family can enjoy its full, yet delicate flavor. Just ask your grocer for one of the blue tins of Maxwell House Coffee.

TWO MORE MEN SLAIN IN ILLINOIS VENDETTA

Kankakee Shootings Follow Inquest Into Rum-Running Murder Case.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANKAKEE, Ill., April 30.—
Two men were slain and another was wounded yesterday in a new outbreak of the Italian vendetta, started last week, when Sam Vaccero was murdered and his body plunged into an old stone quarry four miles west of town.

Vaccero's body was found Monday in his sedan in the bottom of the quarry. An autopsy developed that he was shot through the head from behind. No clue to the slayers has been found. The shooting yesterday afternoon occurred at the saloon of Frank Lupino at North Evergreen avenue and West Mulberry street.

Lupino died after being taken to a hospital. Alessio Lortoriel was killed immediately. Victor Pestanti, the last man who is known to have seen Sam Vaccero before the latter was slain, was seriously injured.

Police and Sheriff's forces who went to the scene again were confronted with silence on the part of witnesses. At an inquest over Vaccero yesterday witnesses refused to talk and the second shooting occurred after the inquest. Vaccero is known to have been a member of a gang of liquor runners.

HOPPE IS LIKELY TO PLAY IN 3-CUSHION LEAGUE NEXT YEAR

Balkline Star Tells Allen Hall He Will Enter Angle Competition

St. Louis Boy, Former Western Amateur Champion, Recounts Experiences in Professional Body to Remain Another Season.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, April 30.—Willie Hoppe, famous exponent of balkline billiards, will very probably play in the National Three-Cushion Billiard League next season.

Allen Hall, St. Louis boy who is representing a Chicago establishment in the national three-cushion league, reports that although Hoppe has not made a definite decision in the matter, he has told players of the league that he expects to enter the tournament.

There will probably be no international balkline tournament next season although the champion, Jake Schaefer, will play one or two challenge matches. Thus, Hoppe will have an opportunity to play three-cushion almost exclusively. Just before the international balkline event here several months ago, Hoppe, in discussing three-cushion billiards with Hall, said that he considered Jake Schaefer without a peer at three-cushion. "The league could ever induce young Jake to play three-cushion," Hoppe told Hall, "we would have a new three-cushion champion."

"Oil" Play Hurts Hall.
In his first season in competition with the best three-cushion players in the world, Hall has made a very favorable showing. His youth and lack of experience against continuing safety play have cost him many games.

"I found out in a hurry what I was up against," said Hall, in discussing the "safe" game employed by professional players. "In my early league games I jumped out into the lead against Cannefax, Helms, Copulos and several others. Then, after they had studied my game for 15 or 20 minutes, they liberally tied me in knots that only old sailors could straighten out. They put my ball up against the rail and had me shoot."

Alton Pugilist Wins Ring Title

Frankie Osner Beats Donald Greer for Southwest Bantam Crown.

By the Associated Press.
TULSA, Ok., April 30.—Unleashing a slashing attack that forced his opponent to take the defensive, Frankie Osner of Alton, Ill., created the featherweight championship of the Southwest from Donald Greer with a well-earned decision in their 10-round battle here last night.

Miss Reich Sets New Tenpin Mark

Chicago Woman Gets 258 Single Game and 622 Total in National Tourney.

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., April 30.—High scores which produced new leaders in the singles and doubles events, and set a new game record for the tournament marked today's activities in the annual tournament of the woman's national bowling association.

M. Baker and M. Elbert of Chicago, went into first place in the doubles with a 1119 score and E. Reich, Chicago, with 622, took the lead in the singles.

By topping 258 pins in her first game Miss Reich broke the game record of 224 established by Mrs. McStevens, Chicago, yesterday. Miss Reich had 202 and 162 in her other games.

A. Higgins, Chicago, rolled into second position in the singles with a score of 597; Mrs. K. Neison, Chicago, took third place with 568, while a 514 by Miss F. Harritt, Cleveland, gave her a 4th with Rose Test of Chicago for fifth place.

Crushing the "nines" for 1925, Z. Quinn and A. Higgins, Chicago, went into fourth place in the doubles. A. Tiege and D. Burton, Detroit, with three pins less took fifth position.

Mrs. Rose Gehring, Cleveland, and Mrs. L. Pollard, Indianapolis, were elected vice presidents of the association at a business meeting last night. Mrs. Grace Garwood, Cleveland, was chosen secretary and Mrs. M. Kelly Jr., St. Louis, treasurer.

The three-year term of Mrs. J. Knepprath, Milwaukee, as president, has two years to run. Milwaukee was unanimously chosen for next year's tournament.

Our Pony Tennis Team.

THE players named to represent the United States in England at the Wimbledon tennis tourney draw only a blank stare from the faces of the uninitiated in tennis affairs.

That's because the names that have been dangled before the public as leaders and internationalists, heretofore, have been almost exclusively those of Tilden, Richards, Johnston, the Kinseys and R. Norris Williams II.

That portion of America which looks askance at defeat in anything can feel in advance a terrible sock right in the place where the chicken usually entertains the ax.

The new list reminds one of an entry to the Tailteann games, with a Hennessey and a Casey topping the list. Rice, Garland, L. R. Williams and Fenne make up the sound.

What Anderson and Patterson will do to this bunch, so the croakers are saying, will be unmentionable.

If an American reaches the Wimbledon final he will have to be lucky.

Will Give Needed Experience.

IT IS true Hennessey and Casey disposed of men like Borotra in matches last year; but the Australians are something else again. Australia ought to win both singles and doubles at the British "world's championship."

And it's all because our amateur rule committee made it a disbarment offense for an amateur to capitalize his reputation by writing for a newspaper syndicate.

That's why Tilden, Richards, the Kinseys and others have held aloof from the competition abroad. It is to be hoped that some loophole can be found to let the best men compete for the Davis cup. At present the only honest to goodness amateur or leaders is Little Bill Johnston.

However, the new lads will get some valuable experience from their trip abroad; and the U. S. is facing the time when new stars must be developed.

Soc'em, Pesek.

FOR world's championship challenging, 20 to the wrestling world. You can find 20 men in the mat game who, in their literature, will agree to throw any other TWO champions or near champions in any old time limit.

That's part of the bunk. When the pinch comes the gentlemen who take in so much territory seldom make good.

Piestna, for example, made many ridiculous offers to toss opponents several times an hour. But when it came to pinning little Jim Londos he couldn't gain one fall in 90 minutes.

Now comes John Pesek—a good wrestler, as all know—and makes the following offers:

To throw Gardini five times an hour.
To throw Oreste Vadalfi five times an hour.
To throw Daviscourt five falls an hour.
To throw Jim Londos and Joe Stecher the same night.

He adds that it is ridiculous to class the first three men mentioned, in the same breath with Pesek.

Either this challenge is one of the many emanations of propagandist piffle, or as more than one has been hinted, Gardini, Vadalfi and Daviscourt are merely carnival exhibition men.

True or false, why not bring Pesek here and let's have a look at him? If he's good enough to be "police" man for the shadow trust, he's good enough to exhibit.

It takes a champion to protect a champion.

Koloff Matched With Jim Londos On Zbyszko Card

One Fall Match Will Be Semi-Windup to Daviscourt's Go With Champion.

Stanislaus Zbyszko, heavyweight wrestling champion, will wrestle at St. Louis University Athletic Field, instead of at the Battery arena, when he meets Dick Daviscourt, next Wednesday night. According to an announcement made today by Promoter Tom Packs, he has arranged to transfer the match to the university stadium in order to provide ample seating accommodations for the purchasers of general admission tickets.

Packs explained that the Battery would be taxed to its utmost capacity to take care of a crowd of 4000 spectators, whereas the Billiken Field has grandstand accommodations for approximately 6000 persons, while 5000 more can be accommodated with ringside seats.

It is the promoter's intention to use a greater part of the Billiken grandstand for general admissions. Negotiations for a heavyweight bout between Dan Koloff, the Bulgarian heavyweight, and Jimmy Londos, Greek mat champion, were concluded by Packs last night when he received a wire from Koloff accepting terms for a one-fall tussle.

The match will be staged as the semifinal event of next week's program.

Koloff plans to leave Cleveland tonight for St. Louis and will reach this city tomorrow afternoon. Dick Daviscourt is also scheduled to report here tomorrow.

George Kubal and Ad Herman, heavyweight mat wallflowers, have been engaged by Promoter Packs to work with Daviscourt in his local training bouts.

Giants Sign Collegian.

LEXINGTON, Va., April 30.—Walter E. (Gus) Lindberg, captain and pitcher of the 1925 Washington and Lee baseball club, has been signed by the New York Giants and will report for duty on June 2. It was made known here yesterday. In five starts this season Lindberg has registered as many victories, defeating Roanoke College, V. P. I., Virginia, Bucknell and Cornell.

modations for approximately 6000 persons, while 5000 more can be accommodated with ringside seats. It is the promoter's intention to use a greater part of the Billiken grandstand for general admissions.

Negotiations for a heavyweight bout between Dan Koloff, the Bulgarian heavyweight, and Jimmy Londos, Greek mat champion, were concluded by Packs last night when he received a wire from Koloff accepting terms for a one-fall tussle.

The match will be staged as the semifinal event of next week's program.

Koloff plans to leave Cleveland tonight for St. Louis and will reach this city tomorrow afternoon. Dick Daviscourt is also scheduled to report here tomorrow.

George Kubal and Ad Herman, heavyweight mat wallflowers, have been engaged by Promoter Packs to work with Daviscourt in his local training bouts.

Sumpter too Fat to Start in the Derby, Owner Withdraws Him

NEW YORK, April 30.—A NOTHER prominent Eastern horse is out of the Kentucky Derby—Quat $20,000 race to be run at Louisville on May 16.

Jack Odom decided yesterday to withdraw Sumpter, which showed much quality in three or four creditable races last fall.

Odom gave assurances at Jamaica that Sumpter had not gone wrong, but he became so fat during the winter that he feels indisposed to hurry him, even for so rich a prize as the Kentucky Derby, he said.

Sumpter has plenty of other engagements this year and I want to give him every chance without running the risk of breaking him down by a hurried preparation.

Imported Colt's Showing Gives Rancocas Stable a Derby Look-In.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Sam Hildreth and Harry Sinclair, of the once famous Rancocas Stable, which for some time has been relegated to the background, developed a new derby "hope" at Jamaica, yesterday, when Silver Fox ran a fine race to victory over a fair field.

Silver Fox, by Grey Fox-Mary Queen of Scots, was caught in a pocket at the start of the opening race and appeared doomed. Late in the race he broke free and ran over his field and won going away.

If Hildreth doesn't start him in the Preakness or the Derby or both, it will be surprising for the colt made a splendid showing.

Fifteen thousand persons attended yesterday's opening and saw Worthmore outstrip a fine field to victory in the Paumonok Stakes, worth $5000 to the winner.

Noah led by three lengths into the stretch, but began to tire and Worthmore just got up in the closing strides to match victory. Serander was third.

After the race admirers of Jockey Sande, who rode the winner, his first victory since he won on Saracen a week ago, presented the little rider with a silver cup.

A race track crowd always wants to cheer the winner but seldom has there been so sincere a demonstration as that after the running of the Paumonok—not for the horse but for the winning jockey.

As Noah and Worthmore battled through the stretch it seemed the crowd of 15,000 forgot the bets they had on other horses and yelled as one for our rider.

Sande's riding won the race, too. They DO come back.

The apprentice allowance of Jockey Kenneth Noe, riding sensation of the Havana and Miami meetings, acquires today with his riding of Verbenia at Akron.

NURMI BREAKS THREE WORLD RECORDS IN MEET ON PACIFIC COAST

Finn Sets New Marks in Race With Lloyd Hahn

Standards for 2000 Yards, 1 1/4 Miles and 1 1/2 Miles Stood for Years.

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Paavo Nurmi, the silent Finnish runner, in a mile and a half run against Lloyd Hahn, Boston A. C. star, here last night, toppled from dust-covered pedestals three world records—two of which had stood for nearly 20 years, the other almost a score of years. The "Phantom Finn" broke the tape 50 yards ahead of his competitor.

The new world marks created last night by Nurmi were those for the 1 1/4-mile, 1 1/2 mile and 2000 yards distances.

The 2000-yard mark of 5m. 7.1 sec. made by Alfred Shrubb, the great English runner, in London, in 1902, was the first to fall when the Finn covered this distance in 5m. 2.4-10s.

He was clocked at 5m. 2.3s. at the one and one-quarter mile mark, or two seconds faster than Shrubb's mark, set at Glasgow in 1904.

Another mark held by Consett fell when Nurmi ran the 1 1/4 distance in 6 minutes 42.5-10 seconds. The old record was 6:46.2.

While Plant, American walking champion and Johnny Myrra, Olympic javelin champion, shared honors with the nimble Nurmi, Plant, walked against Frank Rmouze, Los Angeles, in a 2500-meter contest, and went into the scrap heap another world record by lessening the time of 10 minutes 47.1 seconds made by Ugo Frigerio in Italy. He toe-and-heeled his way to a new mark of 10 minutes 32 seconds.

Myrra shattered by 7 inches an American record he established here last Saturday. Last night he hurled the javelin a distance of 213 feet.

Nurmi will run at San Francisco Saturday in a meet sponsored by the Olympic club.

FIGHTERS ON COAST MUST SIGN FOR BOUTS

By the Associated Press.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 30.—Commissioner Hanlon of the State Athletic Commission has ruled that all fighters must sign a contract with the promoter for future bouts.

The ruling was handed down in an effort to prevent run-ins and change in cards.

In case the promoter fails to use the contracts he will be treated as harshly by the commission as the fighters themselves.

HORNSBY'S ANSWERS

To Baseball Queries

(1) Runners on second and third, none out. Batter strikes out and the catcher drops the ball on the third strike. Is this batter out or can he run? (2) A runner on any one of the three bases none out. An infield fly is hit, the fielder drops the ball. Is the batter out if the catch is not made? (3) A runner is on base. A foul ball is hit. The umpire throws a ball to the pitcher who immediately steps into his box before the runner can return to his base. Does he have to touch his base? (4) A runner is on base. A foul ball is hit. The umpire throws a ball to the pitcher who immediately steps into his box before the runner can return to his base. Does he have to touch his base?

(1) The batter is safe if he reaches first safely.

(2) The batter is not out because the fly is not an "infield fly."

(3) The "infield fly" rule applies only when first and second bases are occupied.

(4) The runner must return and touch his base and is protected until he gets there. I see no reason, under the conditions stated, to call a balk on the pitcher.

Batter hits a fly to right fielder. He misses it, the ball just touching his glove. How many bases does the runner get?—J. E. Johnson.

As many as he can make safely.

A batter hits a foul fly to the first baseman who drops it. The batter then rolls out. Does the first baseman draw an error?—The First Baseman.

He does. Any misplay which prolongs the life of the batter is an error.

Runners on second and third. Three and two count on the batter. Pitcher balks. Do the runners move up and the batter go to first. What is your opinion?—Clement Mullin.

On a balk all runners are advanced on base. Batter does not go to first.

Hot grounder is batted to third baseman. In trying to get the throw the first baseman holds a foot on one corner of the base and is compelled to reach out with his left hand to get the ball. Just as it is about to land in his glove the batter bumps him. What should be the decision?—First Sacker.

Strictly up to the umpire to tell whether there was interference. This is one of those decisions in baseball in which the personal judgment of the umpire is to be exercised. If he thinks the batter interfered deliberately he can call him out.

Soldan Defeats Cleveland, 3-2

South Siders Have Bases Filled With None Out When Rain Stops Game.

Soldan went into second place in the CHV High School Baseball League, by defeating Cleveland, 3-2, in the abbreviated contest yesterday afternoon.

The game was called in the sixth inning when Cleveland had the bases full.

The game was filled with wild throws and errors. Soldan scored in the first, when Jones singled and then stole second.

Levy was hit and both runners advanced on Wolff's out. Jones scored on a passed ball.

Cleveland retaliated in the second, with one marker. Hennelly singled, stole second, and came home when Elmo pegged the ball into center field.

permitted Jones and Levy to get in a scoring position in the third. Both tallied on Wolff's hit. Starkloff singled in Cleveland's fifth. Gleave singled. Wolff lost Coover's fly and Starkloff scored, with Gleave pulling up at second.

In the sixth Musgrove was safe when his roller went through Tober's legs. Mowry singled and Judge walked, filling the bases. Byrne called the game temporarily, and finally for good, when it continued to rain.

E. J. McKEEVER, ACTING BROOKLYN PRESIDENT, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The death of Edward J. McKeever, acting president of the Brooklyn baseball club, who contracted pneumonia at the funeral of the late Charles H. Ebbets, may result in the club changing hands. Plans already are being made by a company, headed by a former baseball man, to make a bid for it.

Edward McKeever's death leaves Stephen W. McKeever as successor to all offices of the club except that of secretary. "Steve" McKeever has had no experience in baseball as an onlooker and an enthusiast in company with his brother, Edward.

The will of the late President Ebbets was to be read today. It is said that the will provided his son, Charles Ebbets Jr., should administer the club.

inter the Ebbets interests in the club.

But the death of the two big proprietors in the Brooklyn club within two weeks of each other is more than likely to bring a big change in the Brooklyn ownership.

Stash, athletic director, announced last night that Wassada University recently extended an invitation to the Maroon team to make the trip to the west. The announcement, however, does not mean a thing to the Brooklyn club.

Stash, who happens to have been a football player, also has been a baseball player. He is now a member of the Brooklyn club.

ent plans, the team will depart in September, returning just before Christmas, playing the leading universities in a series of games.

GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO PAY VETERAN'S FUNERAL EXPENSE

Italian Sought to Collect for Burial of Brother Who Served in U. S. Army.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Government is not liable for a priest's fee in the burial of a war veteran, Comptroller-General McCarle has ruled in a case brought by Pasquale Lucarilli of Castel San Angelo, Italy.

Lucarilli, through the Italian embassy, sought to collect 3000 lire for the burial of his brother, Julius, who served with the American forces. Comptroller McCarle allowed payment of 120 lire, the grave diggers' fee, declaring "the holding of religious services are of a nature different with the beliefs of different individuals and not reimbursable."

SPECIAL INVESTIGATIVE SECURITIES ERRATIC

Rails Rule Fairly Steady but Industrials Move Uncertainly—Call Money Raised.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"Speculative securities were dominated by professional traders today and prices fluctuated erratically over a comparatively narrow range. With the exception of a few individual issues, the market was inactive and the trend was decidedly irregular. Several of the utility stocks were favored, among them the New York Central, which rose to a new top at 102, and American Water Works, which also moved into new high ground and closed at 101. The market for call money was active and money rose to 4 1/2 percent and this factor served to restrict speculative operations and check some enthusiasm.

Favorable Developments Pending.
"Confusing as the uncertain price movements appeared to traders, the opinion prevailed that the market was on the eve of a fairly steady recovery. Several important developments are in store for the street next month, it is asserted. One thing the market is watching for is a dividend increase and stock split scheduled to go through at a meeting two weeks from today. Action of a favorable nature for Mack Trucks is also expected to take place before May 15. In the meantime, progress is being made in the talk of combination of the Kansas City Southern and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas. Reflecting this situation, K. S. T. preferred stock rose to a new high of 101 1/2. Another factor in the market is the fact that the stock market is showing signs of improvement.

Confusing Price Trend.
"The trading character of the market was clearly demonstrated in the afternoon when prices broke sharply and then rallied. The rally was suddenly in the final hour. U. S. Steel was under pressure, together with most of the other stocks of this group throughout the first half of the session and in the afternoon this favorite was driven down below 112 to within a fraction of the low of the year. Several of the other industrials were also weak and Dodge Brothers preferred fell to a new low at 98 1/2. Southern Railway and others in this group were under consideration, however. Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh scored a sharp advance. Extensive dividend increases and reports of buying for new markets were responsible for activity in the rails. Norfolk and Southern attracted attention in this connection.

Exchanges Held Steady.
"Foreign exchange rates held fairly steady with sterling around the high of the present movement at 84 1/2 and French francs slightly higher. Norwegian and Danish crowns again advanced while the pound rose sharply. The weekly statement of the Bank of England revealed that the bank's total reserves had increased to £127,000,000. The previous high point was established in May, 1922. There was also a heavy increase in circulation and the bank's total reserves dropped back to £125,000,000. The easier tone in France may have been due in part to a further increase in the circulation of the franc. The franc of France of about 400,000,000 francs.

Some Senators Believe Dawes' Campaign to Choke Off Filibusters Is Part of Move to Revive Ship Subsidy Measure—Rules Reform Not Likely at Next Session.

By CHARLES MICHELSON.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World. WASHINGTON, April 23.—A good many United States Senators look for a revival of the ship subsidy plan at the coming session of Congress and are rather inclined to believe that Gen. Dawes' apparently tireless harassment of the Senate rules is aimed at preparing for such a measure.

So far, Senators have not observed any serious effect of the Vice President's crusade. A Senator's mail is ordinarily a pretty good barometer of what the people are excited about and so far few seem to be bothering to write either in protest or approval of the General's campaign. If it becomes evident later on that the Vice President is making an impression, we shall see half a dozen Senators—Borah and La Follette among them—doing a little stumping on the other side. There is some measure of senatorial courtesy in the silence of the Senate up to date, the theory being that so long as a man is only trying a kite to attract nomination lightning it is not courteous to interfere with him.

Argument for Retention. The argument for the retention of the Senate rules as they stand is that there never was a good bill finally beaten by a filibuster; while on the other hand, many dangerous measures have been denied enactment by being talked to death. Of course the definition of good and bad depends on the point of view. Perhaps it is more definite to state that in almost every case the defeat of a measure by a filibuster has been followed by the election of a Senate which sustained the protest. In other words, the Senators contend that the filibuster forces represented more opinion than was represented by the Senate majority at the time when filibustering blocked enactment.

Twenty years ago Lodge's force bill was introduced. It involved the establishment of what amounted practically to military supremacy over the Southern elections. There were two thoughts behind it: First the pleasing of the large negro vote in some of the Northern states, and second, the possibility of breaking the democracy of the Solid South. The bill was a sectional measure, and the Republicans had the votes to put it through if it ever came to a vote. Arthur P. Gorman of Maryland conducted the campaign of exhaustion which stopped it.

Bill Never Revived. Popular estimation of the bill is indicated by the circumstances that it never was revived, though the Republicans have had a majority in buster process to hold up the League of Nations. They instance the result of the congressional election of 1918 as proof that they represented the mature thought of the country and the Harding landslide two years later as corroboration. Closure would have put through the Treaty of Versailles except for the provisions which require a two-thirds vote for approval of a treaty.

With Harding there came the ship subsidy bill, a renewal of which is charged as being the motivating impulse behind the present Dawes campaign. Like most of the other successful filibusters, this occurred at the end of a session. The marine bonus undoubtedly had enough votes behind it as a party measure to become law, but it, too, was talked to death. It was an issue in the next election, and though the Republicans retained a majority in 1923 it was recognized that ship subsidy had no chance; it was not revived at the succeeding session.

If President Coolidge does essay next year to support the same program there is not much hope of his changing as Dawes would change them; that is, by permitting a mere majority vote to enforce closure instead of two-thirds, as is the present system. If the majority can do this, it means that there is nothing to stop the party in power from enacting anything which is determined on as a party measure—except, of course, where enough insurgency exists to whittle the majority down.

Copeland's Effort. The cases referred to are not by any means all the big filibusters which have been attempted. As late as the end of the recent session Senator Copeland talked for 10 hours in an effort to block approval of the Isle of Pines treaty which had been pending since the close of the Spanish War. But when it became evident that there were enough votes to establish closure, the New York Senator gave up. In fact, the mere threat of clo-ture usually suffices to end a debate under these circumstances. The second element of the Dawes plan, insistence on a Senator's not speaking on irrelevant matters, thus preventing the reading of books into the record and that sort of thing, is not taken very gravely. The complications incident to deciding when a Senator's argument does not apply to a pending question are too involved. It would be a poor Senator who could not make a sufficient connection to a pending question of anything he might talk about. It would be a bold precedent officer who would rule, for example, that a chapter of the Bible was not relevant to a debate in which the opposition was holding that a moral issue was involved, or to say how often the Ten Commandments might be read in emphasis of the iniquity of the other fellow's position.

If the Republican Senators could be sure of the next congressional election there might be a chance of their being brought into line to change the rules, but they appreciate the likelihood of political turnovers in office and are not going to scrap a weapon which may be invaluable to them during the closing two years of Mr. Coolidge's administration.

I. C. May Buy Line to Ozarks. POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., April 23.—Unverified reports are current here to the effect that the Illinois Central Railroad is planning to purchase the Missouri-Illinois Line, which extends from Bismark, Mo. to Salem, Ill. If the purchase is made, it was stated, the Illinois Central would extend the line west of Bismark into the timber regions of the Ozarks.

Webb City Gets New Factory. WEBB CITY, April 23.—A leather goods factory is the most recent business innovation for Webb City. Through an agreement to provide quarters for the concern, the local Chamber of Commerce has procured a $50,000 establishment which will make a specialty of a wide variety of leather and novelty goods.

SACK OF GREENBACKS FOUND IN WALL OF OLD RESIDENCE

Bills Chewed to Bits By Mice Make Estimate of Amount a Problem.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. BOONEVILLE, Mo., April 23.—Workmen engaged in remodeling the home of Mrs. Alma Cleary in Booneville, discovered a sack of greenbacks Tuesday afternoon. In removing some of the bricks, the sack became loosened from its place in the wall and fell to the floor.

When examined it was found to contain a roll of bills and a letter written in German. The sack, money and letter had all been partly destroyed by mice who had evidently nibbled on them from time to time in the years they had remained in hiding.

The ink had faded so that it was impossible to read the letter and on account of the condition of the bills, many of which had been chewed into bits, it was impossible to tell the amount contained in the sack. It is estimated at $1000. The house is one of the oldest in the city.

Highway No. 2 to Be Paved by Year.

COLUMBIA, April 23.—The entire mileage of Highway No. 2, being constructed across the State from Kansas City to St. Louis, will be paved in less than 12 months, according to highway officials here. This route is the shortest cross-State route yet laid out, being 246 miles long. The last stretch of the road to be paved will be 30 miles between this place and Caldwell, Callaway County, which is already an all-weather gravel road.

Specimens Grown in Arkansas Unknown to American Botanists.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 23.—Specimens of a type of oak tree entirely new to the botanists of the United States were brought back to the botanical laboratories of the University of Arkansas Monday by Dr. D. M. Moore, assistant professor of botany, after a three-days' botanical investigation trip to Magazine Mountain, near Magazine, Ark.

Dr. Moore, in company with Prof. Douglas Demaree of Hendrix College and E. J. Palmer of the Arnold Arboretum of Boston, Mass., and two Hendrix College students, made the trip to Magazine Mountain. Palmer first discovered the new oak approximately a year ago.

TRY LEMON JUICE TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It cannot irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It cannot be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Half a century ago, Dr. Leslie E. Keeley announced that Drink and Drug habits were physical maladies, and must be treated as such with rest, care and proper medicines.

In his lifetime, Dr. Keeley returned thousands of happy men and women to their homes—entirely free from the thrall of Drink and Drugs.

The Keeley Institute at Dwight, Illinois, has continued the same work in the same manner—with the same happy results. Absolutely no restraint, no bad after effects. Relaxation, with pure air, good food and scientific treatment that restores normal strength. Charges for treatment and accommodation are very moderate. USE CANTHROX Shampoo

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

We have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a shampoo, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by putting some canthrox from your drugstore and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely removed in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much better than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

WOMAN SNAKE EXPERT BITTEN

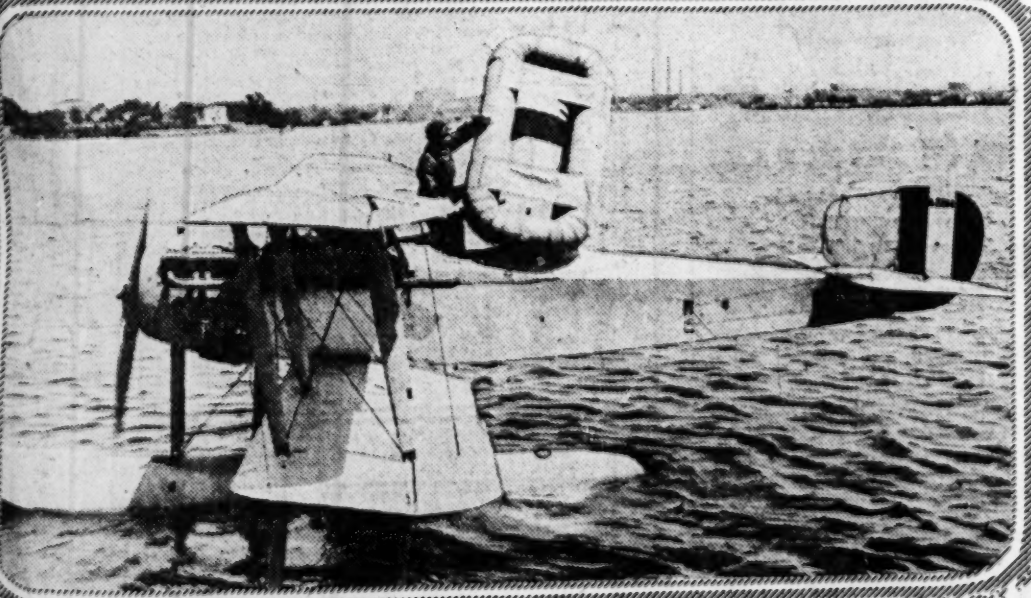

NEW FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVE

Miss Nellie Louise Condon (in the center), secretary of the Reptile Study Society of America, was bitten on the finger by a 30-inch copperhead snake which was among the catch made on the annual spring hunt of the society, near Suffern, N. Y. In the photo Paul W. Snyder is showing members of the society how to extract poison from the copperhead. It was this snake that bit Miss Condon a short time later.

USE CANTHROX
Shampoo

TODAY'S AID TO BEAUTY

We have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple home-made canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.—Advertisement.

The Man on the Sandbox

by L. C. DAVIS

THE PASSING SHOW.

I SEE our old friend Connie Mack is showing signs of coming back. And if his youngsters do not crack he'll make a noble showing. But his rejuvenated clan may just be flashing in the pan. And prove to be an also-ran. When once they hit tough going.

He has a kid named Sammy Gray. A pitcher with a winning way. And he has surely come to stay. Unless they prick his bubble. On Sam the lanky leader banks. For he went in against the Yanks And dealt them out a row of blanks Without the slightest trouble.

I see Babe Ruth is on the mend And that his troubles soon will end. When on the pellet he will bend His justly famous willow. When free from every pain and ache A toothoid he'll proceed to take. For no four-baggers can he make Reclining on a pillow.

Hi Myers, from our city fled. To be a Cincinnati Red And then he promptly went to bed. By illness overtaken. The Reds are ridden by a jinx. In muscles there are many kinks. The Royal Rooters lost their drinks. And their morale is shaken.

TOO TRUE.

The ambition of the Giants is to win their fifth straight pennant. Far be it from their Eastern contemporaries to gainsay them.

Philadelphia has a featherweight boxer who calls himself Babe Ruth. But he is not the slugger that his namesake is.

The man on the sandbox says the least President Hindenburg could do would be to make his old pal, Bill Hohenzollern, postmaster of Berlin.

And he might drop the former Crown Prince into the soft little berth of beer inspector.

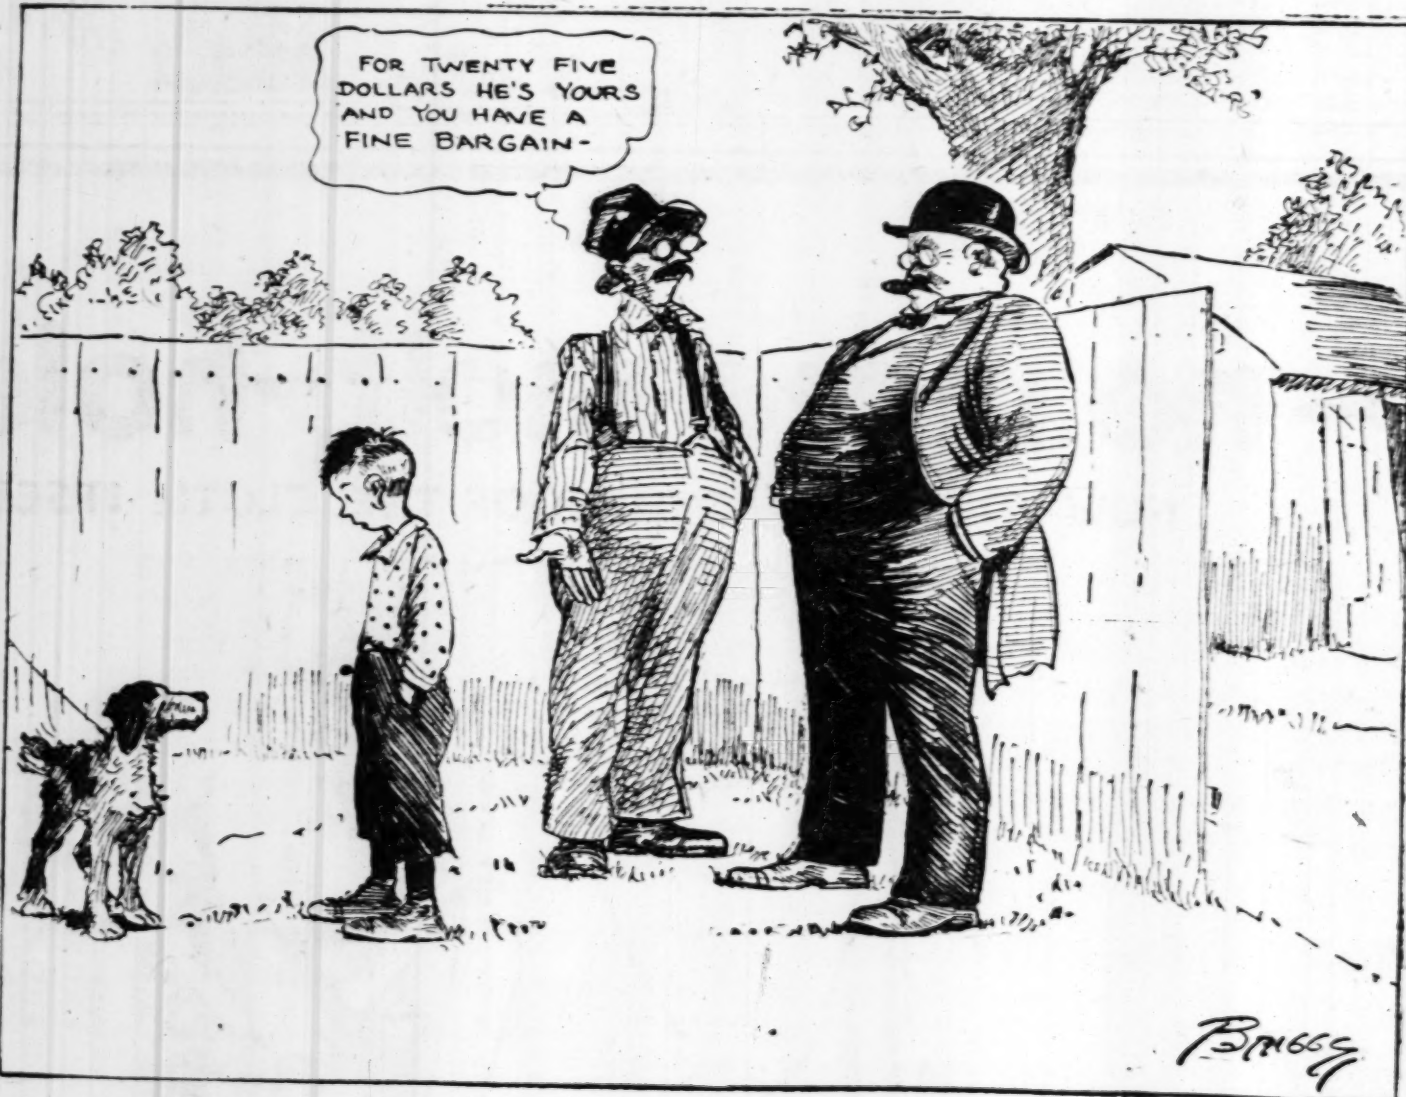

The seven "village dry agents" convicted of bootlegging in Cincinnati were more alcoholic than bucolic.

It might be well to frisk the village blacksmith to find out if he is doing any shoe-legging on the side.

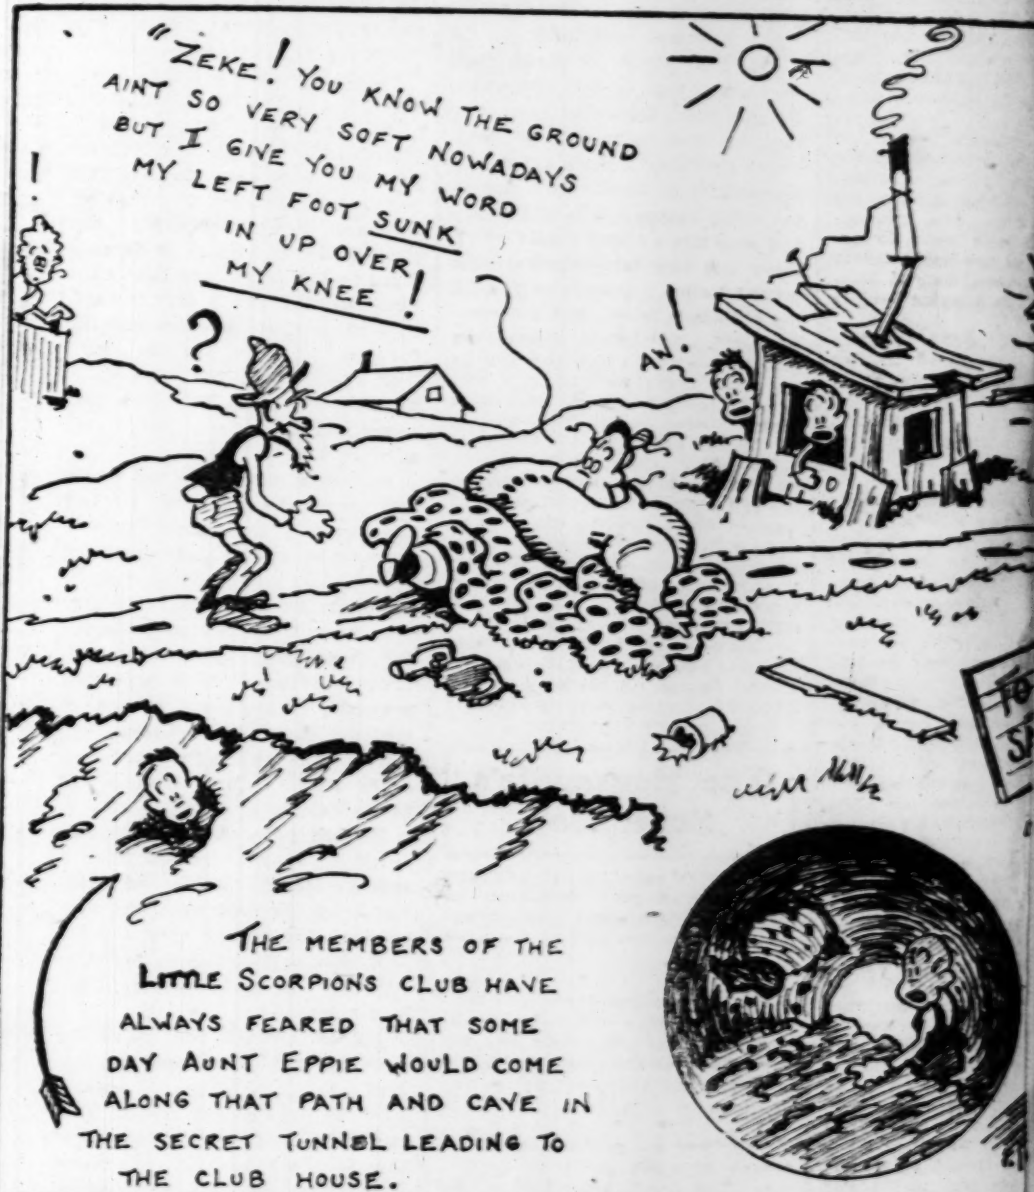

Hindenburg was the first German ruler to be elected by popular vote in 1000 years. Everything comes to him who waits.
